Russia Ready to Discuss Control of Outer Space

Proposes Package Deal Including Abolition of Nuclear Arms, Cut in Forces

Moscow—(AP)—The Soviet government has notified President Eisenhower officially that it will discuss fully the control of outer space as part of a package deal including the abolition of nuclear weapons and the reduction of armed forces.

Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin, in a communication delivered yesterday in Washington, said the Soviet Union accepted the idea of preparing for a summit conference through normal diplomatic channels but ruled out any prior foreign ministers' conference because of Soviet opposition to Secretary of State Dulles.

Bulganin, replying to President Eisenhower's Jan. 12 letter, proposed a 9-point agenda for a summit meeting of east and west leaders.

Soviet Foreign Ministry Spokesman Leonid F. Ilyichyev told a news conference today the Soviet government is ready to participate in a summit meeting based on either broad or restricted representation.

(Moscow radio began broadcasting the text of Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin's letter to President Eisenhower just after the Moscow news conference.)

9-Point Proposal

Here are the nine points Bulganin proposed for a conference:

1. Immediate suspension of atomic and hydrogen bomb tests.
2. Renunciation by the Soviet Union, the United States and Britain of the use of nuclear weapons.
3. Establishment of an atom-free zone in central Europe.
4. Conclusion of a non-aggression pact between the signatories of the Warsaw and NATO pacts.
5. Reduction of foreign troops in Germany and other European countries.
6. An agreement on the prevention of a sudden attack.
7. Discussion of measures to broaden international trade ties.
8. End the propaganda war.
9. Consider the problems of easing tension in the near and Middle East.

Bulganin and his government rejected strongly President Eisenhower's proposal for abolition of the veto power in the United Nations Security Council.

"It is precisely the rule of unanimity," said the Soviet premier, "which makes the United Nations 'an effective instrument of international measures for preserving peace.'"

The elimination of the veto, Bulganin said, would lead "to abusive infringement of the rights of minorities, and would wreck the United Nations organization and finally result in its disintegration."

Part of General Plan

Bulganin wrote that the Soviet government recognizes the importance of discussing future control of outer space.

But he asked Eisenhower to agree "that it is possible to consider this only as a part of general problem of a n i n g nuclear and rocket weapons." The president had suggested the question of outer space could be studied separately.

The Kremlin, Bulganin added, is ready to discuss such problems as the control of intercontinental missiles "if the western powers show a willingness to come to an agreement on prohibiting atomic and nuclear weapons and the banning of their tests and the disarm-

Woman Fatally Shot At Roadblock While Abductor Is Sought

Officer Held as Hostage Freed; Gunman Flees, Pal Shoots Self

Paducah, Ky.—(AP)—A woman was shot to death at a roadblock near here today as police spread a new dragnet for an escaped gunman after his companion attempted suicide and Paducah, was shot when a car in which she was riding sped through a roadblock.

Missouri Trooper Vernon Hopkins reported she was shot by a civilian, Forest McAllister of Fulton, Ky., who was sitting in Hopkins' police cruiser.

Hopkins fired and hit a tire when the car, driven by the victim's brother, Claude English, 27, ran the roadblock.

The trooper said McAllister

Unified Defense Plans Offered

Two Republicans Propose More Power For McElroy

Washington—(AP)—Two Republican senators put forward separate proposals today aimed at achieving much the same goal—giving the secretary of defense greater authority in running things at the Pentagon.

Sen. Bush (Conn) proposed legislation to streamline the defense department and give the secretary of defense more say-so in the use of funds.

Sen. Cooper (Ky) also called for putting more monetary control in the office of the secretary and went one big step further.

Cooper proposed downgrading the positions of civilian secretaries of the army, navy and air force to put them on an undersecretary basis. This would centralize civilian control of the military in the secretary of defense himself, said Cooper.

No Central Control

"My bill would reverse the present emphasis of individual operation of the three services," he said. "Instead of unification in the defense setup we now have a sort of federalization without any real centralized civilian control."

Bush's package proposals would carry out many of the recommendations of the Rockefeller brothers special commission which studied ways to improve the defense mechanism.

Probers Read Six Charges Against Doerfer

FCC Chairman Says He's Subjected to 'Trial by Innuendo'

Washington—(AP)—House investigators today read off six allegations of personal misconduct against Chairman John C. Doerfer of the federal communications commission. Doerfer said he was being subjected to "trial by innuendo."

Similar allegations also have been made by a special house subcommittee against four of the other six FCC members.

Chairman Moulder (D-Mo) read the allegations to Doerfer in a jammed hearing room. The FCC boss was accused, among other things, of accepting favors from the industry which the commission regulates and of collecting expenses for a convention trip from both industry and the government.

Deny Charges

The subcommittee, which is looking into federal regulatory agencies, gave written copies of the allegations to the affected FCC members last week. Two of the accused commissioners, Robert T. Bartley and Rosel H. Hyde, distributed statements to the press in the hearing room denying the complaints.

Doerfer asked that in "American fair play" he be permitted to make a statement.

Moulder said not at this time "you will sit in the hearing room if you please, sir. You

Fund Bill Passage Indicated Today

Washington—(AP)—Sens. Knowland (R-Calif) and Mansfield (D-Mont) predicted today that the senate will pass a $1,410,000,000 emergency defense money bill before the day ends.

Earlier demands by some senators that another one or two billion dollars be added to the money bill were cooled both by satisfaction at the successful orbiting of the U. S. Explorer satellite and by the insistence of senate leaders that the present urgent requests should not be delayed by additions.

"I think the bill will go through now just as it cleared the appropriations committee," Mansfield, assistant Democratic floor leader, said.

Expect Yemen In Republic

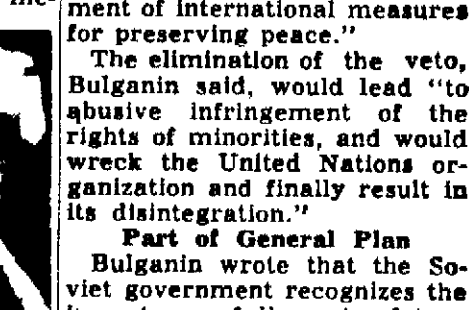

Crown Prince Due In Cairo To Tell About Decision

Cairo—(AP)—The crown prince of Yemen was expected here today to associate his little medieval kingdom on the Red sea with the United Arab Republic of Egypt and Syria.

Student celebrations in the oil-rich sheikhdom of Kuwait which is under British protection, called for that tiny area on the Persian gulf to join the disconnected union also. The extent of Kuwait government support for the demonstration was not immediately apparent.

An Egyptian spokesman said Crown Prince Seif el Islam el Badr "will announce that Yemen will adhere to the republic." Whether that meant full membership or merely federation with the union proclaimed Saturday was not clear.

The Yemen legation said it knew nothing of the reports. Cairo radio said the crown prince would arrive today.

Predicts U. S. Will Man Satellite in 6 Years

Philadelphia—(AP)—Willy Ley, one of the world's leading experts on rocket propulsion, predicts that the U. S. will be able to send a manned satellite up into space in six years.

Speaking at the second session of the Philadelphia Bulletin forum yesterday, he said that this country and Russia probably could shoot an unmanned rocket to the moon this year.

Ley called such a feat glamorous, but one which "will teach comparatively few scientific facts."

The major goal of both countries, he said, is not the moon rocket flight, but manned space flights.

Demands Action to Avert Plane Crashes

California Official Wants U. S. Move After 48 are Killed

Los Angeles—(AP)—Collision of two military planes over suburban Norwalk, killing 48 persons, brought a demand today for immediate action on the part of the secretary of defense.

County Supervisor Kenneth Hahn, noting that the Norwalk disaster was one of three aerial collisions over southern California in as many days, said: "I am sending a telegram to the secretary of defense, asking that he appoint a special investigating court not merely to fix the blame for the crash but to study the increasing problems of air traffic in metropolitan areas."

"The court should be empowered to make new rules, if necessary, to protect the lives and property of our residents. . . . With the great number of military planes in our area and with the heavy volume of civilian and commercial aircraft, we have a most critical air traffic problem."

Knight Asks Inquiry

Gov. Goodwin J. Knight earlier called for a full-scale congressional investigation of airway traffic controls. Knight, in Sacramento, commented: "Such an investigation is long overdue. The people of California are entitled to some positive action."

The tragic series—which took a total of 55 lives—began Friday. Two air force B26 medium bombers smashed together over the desert east of Daggett, killing the 2-man crew on one of them.

Saturday night over Norwalk a C118 military air transport service plane and a navy Neptune patrol bomber rammed together.

And yesterday, while investigators still were poking through charred wreckage at Norwalk, two civilian planes collided 30

Tipsy Driver Forfeits Bond

Arrested After Car Hits Pole, Crashes Into Tree

Combined Locks — Thomas L. Resch, 21, 321 S. Birch street, Kimberly, forfeited $150 bond when he failed to answer a drunk-driving charge before Leo Bosch, justice of the peace, today.

His driver's license was revoked for one year.

He was arrested Sunday morning after his car struck a utility pole near the Chicago and North Western crossing at Prospect street. After hitting the pole, Resch's car continued on for a quarter of a mile jumped a high curb at State and Prospect streets and struck a tree, police said. He received minor cuts and abrasions.

He tested 29 on the drunkometer. A reading of .15 is considered evidence of drunkenness.

Police searched farms around wauke said it was the largest haul of all roads and a house-to-house search in Crown Point yesterday. They had no hats or coats in the 19-degree weather.

One of the escapees is charged with murder and he also fled the jail in the break last Nov. 18. He is Arthur A. Karr, 40, Gary, charged with stabbing his uncle, John M. Karr, to death in an argument in a tavern last Nov. 2.

The other escapee is John Stimovich, 46, Gary, paroled recently from a federal prison after serving time for a bank robbery. Stimovich was being held on a federal charge of attempting to break open a post office safe.

Suspect Held in Extortion Attempt

Kenosha—(AP)—Police have seized an unemployed garage worker from Waukegan, Ill., who they said has admitted trying to extort $1,500 from two local auto dealers and a dentist so he could move south.

Detective Arthur J. Reiley identified the man as Kenneth LaPage, 27, who was arrested Saturday by Kenosha and Waukegan police in Waukegan. LaPage formerly lived in Kenosha.

Reiley quoted LaPage saying he wanted the money so he and his wife could move south "because they couldn't stand the cold Wisconsin weather."

Reiley said $500 was demanded from each man on the threat of exposing some pictures of the man. LaPage later admitted the fire threatened to spread but he did not have. The intended through a ventilation chute.

Supreme Court Will Review Case Involving Natural Gas Price Hike

Washington—(AP)—The supreme court today agreed to review a decision the government said may delay natural gas rate increases totaling nearly a quarter of a billion dollars a year.

At issue is whether customers holding long-term contracts with pipe line companies must consent before the companies can put higher rates into effect automatically after six months.

A decision that such agreement is necessary was handed down by the U. S. Court of Appeals here. It was appealed by the justice department and the federal power commission.

The department said the decision, if allowed to stand, could result in grave injury to the natural gas industry. A commission spokesman said the decision could affect pending rate cases involving proposed increases totaling more than $200 million a year.

For many years it has been the practice of pipe line companies to file new rates with the FCC, then begin collecting the higher rates six months later. Increases have been subject to refund if the FCC eventually rejected the new rates. The court of appeals said this practice could be followed only if the gas customers gave their consent to the tentative increases.

New U. W. President Takes Over July 21

Dr. Elvehjem's Career Parallels That of Retiring University Chief

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison — A tall, lean University of Wisconsin scientist today battled the flu bug at his home as he contemplated the responsibilities of the biggest school administration job in Wisconsin.

Cornrad A. Elvehjem, a 56-year-old product of Wisconsin schools, Saturday was elevated from the deanship of the University of Wisconsin graduate school to the university presidency by a unanimous vote of regents.

He will succeed on July 1 Dr. E. B. Fred, president for the last 12 years, whose own career in many ways parallels that of the younger man. Dr. Fred was given the rank of president emeritus of the university and professor of bacteriology, at a salary of $13,000. The appointment signalled a change in plans for the venerable scholar, who had previously talked about retiring to his ancestral farm in Virginia.

Dr. Elvehjem will have a salary as president of $23,000 a year. The university will name a new dean of the graduate school later, presumably in consultation with the retiring dean.

The new president was chosen by a special regents committee headed by Charles Gelatt of LaCrosse from a field of more than 100 men. Gelatt said 15 or 20 from California to New York had been interviewed, but Dr. Elvehjem was the only man to whom the presidency was offered. He promptly accepted, Gelatt said.

Tradition Followed
 The regents emphasized that their choice of a scholar for the university command was in tune with the historic tradition of the school, which they said is the foundation of its eminent rank among the universities of the country.

Dr. Fred also came to the presidency by way of the graduate school deanship. He also had been dean of the college of agriculture and has been on the faculty for 45 years.

Dr. Elvehjem, 13th president of Wisconsin, has had a brilliant academic and scientific career. He won his doctorate 31 years ago at the university, has taught there since 1923 and became a full professor in 1936 at the relatively young age of 35. He became chairman of the biochemistry department of the University in 1944.

He has won major national awards for distinction in nutritional research and is the author of nearly 800 scientific papers on the subject. He is married and the father of two children.

Faculty Reaction
 Dr. Elvehjem's election will be well-received by faculty and students, according to all indications.

There has been some feeling among teachers at the school that the regents might properly consider a representative of the social sciences or the humanities for the leadership of the university, but Dr. Edwin Young, spokesman for a faculty committee consulted by the regents, spoke warmly of the Elvehjem selection. He is chairman of the university department of economics.

Prof. Fred Harrington, now a special assistant in President Fred's office, was one of the men considered for the presidency, although the regents didn't mention the fact. He is a professor of history. But the faculty speculated that Prof. Harrington might be considered, later in the year, for appointment to the graduate school deanship which Dr. Elvehjem will vacate.

William Buchanan, John Hayes Negotiate With Mayor for Parts of 39.91-Acre Site

Negotiations for sale of part of the 39.91-acre industrial park which the city is buying have begun between Mayor Robert L. Roemer and two Appleton industrialists.

William E. Buchanan, president of Appleton Wire Works, Inc., and John M. Hayes, president of Appleton Manufacturing Company, both are interested in obtaining about seven acres, Roemer said.

Both are reported interested in building warehouses on the site, the mayor said, but both warehouses would include specifications either for immediate or future production facilities.

3 Fatalities on Wisconsin Roads During Weekend

Milwaukee—Three weekend highway deaths in Wisconsin, including that of a former Minnesota congressman, raised the state's traffic toll to 49 today, compared with 72 on this date a year ago.

Elton R. Wetzel, Jr., 20, of Mayville, was killed in the village of Knowles shortly after midnight when his car left a Dodge county trunk highway on a curve and struck a tree.

Elmer J. Ryan, 50, St. Paul, former U. S. representative from Minnesota's Second district, died Saturday night in a two-car collision near Somerset, Wis., about 20 miles northeast of St. Paul.

Mrs. Della Madenwaldt, 48, Laona, was killed Sunday in a two-car crash on U. S. Highway 8 about seven miles east of Crandon. Her husband, Noah, 50, and their son, Fred, 11, were hospitalized at Rhinelander in critical condition.

4 Die, 5 Hurt in Texas Apartment House Fire

Dallas, Texas—Four persons died and five were injured in an apartment house fire here Sunday morning.

An unidentified resident, finding his telephone dead, ran four blocks to turn in the 3:30 a.m. blaze.

The dead were identified by Deputy Fire Chief D. C. Lester as Al Routh, Edward Lee Kouns, and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Courin, all about 45 years old.

Lester estimated the loss to the 16-unit brick apartment house at $40,000. He said none of the injured were believed in a serious condition. Cause of the fire had not been determined.

Body of Man Found in Canal

A body tentatively identified as that of Charles Scheer, 121 E. Second street, Kaukauna, was found about 1 o'clock this afternoon at the rake guard in the power canal just east of the Main street bridge by Kaukauna police.

Police said Scheer had been missing since Saturday and a search for him was underway. The identification was not certain, Outagamie county Coroner Bernard H. Kemps said.

Cause of death was not immediately learned.

AFL-CIO Orders Michigan Labor To Dump Hoffa

State Federation Told to Regroup Without Teamsters

Miami Beach—(AP)—The AFL-CIO declared open war today on the expelled Teamsters union by directing Michigan labor forces to regroup and leave the Teamsters boss James R. Hoffa out in the cold.

The action is expected to spur retaliatory measures from Hoffa who, after taking the Teamsters union helm under a court monitor system, is holding a pow-wow with the Teamsters executive board here next week.

The Teamsters defied AFL-CIO corruption charges and were expelled after they elected Hoffa.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, was due to cancel charters of the Hoffa-dominated AFL Michigan Federation of Labor and the Michigan Industrial Council controlled by one-time CIO Chief Walter Reuther.

The AFL-CIO executive council, in its opening winter session today, was expected to okay Meany's move and issue a new AFL-CIO charter calling a special convention Feb. 24 at Grand Rapids to establish the new Michigan labor organization.

Hoffa's scandal-ridden Teamsters union, prominent in the present Michigan AFL federation, will be denied any delegates or voice in forming the new AFL-CIO unit.

Hoffa recently was placed under a court monitor system in running the Teamsters. But Meany and other federation leaders appear to have no confidence that this will be an effective check on Hoffa, who was named as an associate of hoodlums in senate racketeering committee hearings.

Under Hoffa's influence, the Michigan federation says it will balk at the merged Michigan labor setup. But AFL-CIO leaders predict that the bulk of the former AFL union forces in the state would swing over to the organization to be established at the Grand Rapids convention.

Social Security

Earnings Must be Under $1,200 for Full Benefits

BY D. B. GALLAGHER

"My mother is 73. She worked for a hospital as a cleaning woman for about ten years. When domestic help was brought under social security, she asked her employers to deduct taxes from her salary. But those in charge at the hospital said that because she worked only a couple of days a week, deductions weren't worthwhile.

"She had enough social security credits from previous work for the minimum $30 a month benefits, which she is now receiving.

"In 1956, her yearly earnings were $1,203 and she had to return one monthly check. We have read in your column that you can make a few dollars over $1,200 and still get checks."

It seems safe to say that the hospital where your mother worked was not under social security coverage. Had it been so covered, your mother's earnings would have been reported along with those of the other employees.

Unless the hospital was covered, your mother's earnings were not subject to social security tax because her work was not domestic employment.

If her 1956 earnings of $1,203 were covered by social security, your mother should ask for a recomputation of her social security account. She may be eligible for an increase in benefits. Check with your social security office on this matter.

We have repeatedly stated that a person receiving monthly social security benefits could ther and the descent of Hoffa so far as the key state of Michigan and the rest of the main body of organized labor is concerned.

earn more than $1,200 for the year and still receive some monthly checks. But we have never said that one could earn over $1,200 and get all 12 monthly checks; that is, if under 72.

The rule is that for every $80 or fraction thereof over $1,200, one monthly check is lost. The $3 over the $1,200 was a fraction of this $80 and cost your mother one check.

"I am 42 and am working for the county as a registered nurse. I have to my credit about nine years under social security coverage. I am interested in my benefits, if any."

With nine full years of covered employment, you should have to your credit 36 quarters of coverage. But you will need 40 quarters for reduced monthly benefit credits at 62. With 36 quarters to your credit, you are fully insured through June, 1969.

We are assuming that you are not now covered by social security; however, the credits to your account will never be lost. And there is plenty of time to earn the needed quarters if you wish to take a full or part-time job under social security.

Doerfer said a letter containing the allegations was served on him last Friday at 5:30 p. m. and "they are rather general."

"Leaked to Press" The FCC chairman said he had undergone a great deal of annoyance "to put it mildly." Trial by ordeal and fire, he said, "is nothing compared to trial by innuendo" by some newspapers.

The substance of the allegations had been "leaked" to the press several weeks ago.

Doerfer said also he would try to give a complete account of every waking moment of his life in the last five years.

In his opening statement, Moulder read these allegations against Doerfer:

That Doerfer was fully reimbursed by industry for expenses for him and his wife at a convention and received a government expense allowance also.

That Doerfer's hotel bills were paid by industry when he received government expense allowances also, that his wife's expenses were paid, that he constantly fraternized with individuals involved in cases before the FCC, that he received communications equipment such as a color TV set, and that he received a free service contract.

Hyde said he received the letter containing "a series of six vague, generalized allegations, but no specifications" on Saturday, Feb. 1, at 12:20 p. m. at his home and had had no opportunity to prepare a reply prior to the hearing hour.

"However," Hyde said, "grievous and continuing injury being caused by circulation in the press of vague charges, with all manner of implications, seeping from committee sources require me

YGOP Leader Says He's Interested In Assembly Race

Harold V. Froehlich, head of the Outagamie county GOP statutory committee and chairman of the Eighth District Young Republicans, said today he is considering entering the race for Appleton assemblyman.

The race for the assembly seat, vacated by the death last summer of Fritz Frank, will be this fall. Although no other candidates have indicated an interest publicly, the name of former assemblyman Mark Catlin turns up in every discussion of the race, GOP sources say.

Froehlich is a junior at the University of Wisconsin and has been active in the YGOP for two years. He is 25 and will enter law school next year.

Unemployment Top Issue in Canadian Election Campaigns

Ottawa—(AP)—Canadian political leaders today mapped strenuous cross-country campaigns to discuss unemployment, trade and other major issues in the elections March 31 for a new parliament. A bitter campaign is expected.

Prime Minister John Diefenbaker ordered the elections Saturday in an effort to win a majority in the 265-seat house of commons.

His conservative party has been governing with 113 votes since upsetting the liberal party last June. Diefenbaker said minority rule had created an intolerable situation, and the government needs "a direct and unquestioned mandate from the people."

Lester B. Pearson, Nobel prize winning former foreign minister and new liberal party leader, recently called on Diefenbaker to hand over the government to the liberals, who ruled for 22 years before last June. He was refused.

Canada's worst unemployment since the depression promised to be the key issue of the winter campaign.

Jury Decides Money Paid in Voecks Case

Mortgage Won't be Foreclosed on Home of Mrs. H. Hannemann

A circuit court jury before Judge Andrew W. Parnell took about three hours to decide an Appleton couple had paid $10,000 to the late Herman T. Voecks and that a mortgage on a widow's home should not be foreclosed.

Edward E. Sager, executor of the Voecks' estate had sued Mrs. Hazel Hannemann, 2001 N. Morrison street, widow of Erwin P. Hannemann, to foreclose on a mortgage on her home. The mortgage was signed Jan. 5, 1949, by Hannemann and his wife. Hannemann died in July, 1955.

Sager claimed no record of any payment on the principal of the mortgage existed, only interest payments. Mrs. Hannemann claimed that $10,000 had been paid Voecks July 5, 1951.

Since Mrs. Hannemann claimed the mortgage note for $12,000 had been partially paid, the burden of proving it had been paid and the mortgage should not be foreclosed rested with her as defendant, unlike most court cases in which the burden of proof rests on the plaintiff.

Offered $2,183, Mrs. Hannemann, in her answer to Sager's suit, claimed she had offered payment of $2,000 plus interest to Sager several times in order to settle the law action. She filed with Clerk of Court Sydney M. Shannon $2,183 and offered it to Sager shortly after the legal action began. Sager did not claim the money deposited.

Introduced in evidence during the trial, which began Thursday, was a carbon copy of a receipt issued to the Hannemann couple and signed by Voecks and his wife, Elizabeth,

Point of No Return

Three years ago these columns warned that we had little time left in which to reach an agreement with Russia that would stop the arms race. The Post-Crescent and a few other organs of opinion pointed out that a day was approaching after which any kind of inspection system to enforce a disarmament agreement would become technically impossible.

That day has now arrived. Whether we believe Comrade Khrushchev's boast that Russia has an operational ICBM is not really important; it is a certainty, at least, that the Soviets are on the verge of having a good supply of such weapons. Meanwhile Dr. Edward Teller has told a congressional committee that we have such a weapon, with nuclear warheads to fit it. Our success in launching a satellite reinforces this point.

What scientists such as Teller and Eugene Rabinowitch, editor of the Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists, have been trying to point out is that as a result of these developments an enforceable disarmament agreement is no longer possible. We have, in Rabinowitch's words, passed the point of no return.

Why? Because ICBM's can be hidden in launching pits scattered widely in a nation like the USSR or the United States. The best-conceived inspection system could not possibly detect them all. And they can be launched, aimed at the enemy's cities, at the touch of a button.

We have, then, entered an era in which man's ancient dream of an effective disarmament agreement among the nations has permanently eluded our grasp. It is necessary now to try to penetrate the fog that shrouds the future, to grope for the alternatives that face us.

These alternatives are not difficult to predict. It is possible, of course, that mankind may live for decades, even centuries, in peace enforced by mutual deterrence — the unwillingness of any power to risk murderous retaliation. But if such a peace really lasts, it will have to be regarded as a miracle. Certainly we know enough about human fallibility by this time to fear a peace based on this so-called balance of terror.

Another possibility is war. It is, of course, in preparation for this possibility that both we and the Russians are arming ourselves so feverishly. With respect to this alternative we can only pray that if it comes to pass we will be ready, and will emerge victorious.

There are those who insist a third alternative is continued negotiations with the Soviets. But if disarmament is no longer possible, for what shall we negotiate? The only thing left, it seems to us, to talk with the Russians about is setting up some kind of a world government or at least a world police force that will be able to overawe any nation no matter how big and powerful. Are we even ready to consider such a scheme?

We believe there is a fourth alternative, one that involves risks and is perhaps what gamblers call a long shot, yet one that if successful offers such rewards as to make it worth the risks. We are speaking of a calculated program on the part of the free world to eradicate communist dictatorship from the face of the earth without outright war. One way we could further this aim would be by rededicating ourselves to our own precious ideals of human liberty, and through that rededication inspire the peoples of all the nations to make liberty the cornerstone of their own political faiths. At the same time we should use every method we can devise — diplomatic, psychological and, yes, conspiratorial — to bring the top-heavy communist dictatorships tumbling down in ruins. Such an event still holds out man's best hope for peace and a decent life.

Attempt to be Neutral

The suggestion, coming most notably from George Kennan but debated for several years, for "neutralizing" central Europe in an effort to avoid war and permit those countries to develop without hindrance, has a testing ground in Austria.

After World War II Austria was occupied by troops from Russia and several countries of the West. It became a cold war battleground with so much espionage involved in the government and police forces that little headway could be made toward recovery from the devastation of the recent hot war. Austria agreed to be a "neutral" nation and accepted the conditions imposed by Soviet Russia and approved officially by communist Czechoslovakia and Hungary. The western powers also withdrew their troops.

And today is Austria free of the scourge of spies and mistrust? Does she live in peace and harmony with her neighbors? Articles from Austrian newspapers indicate the contrary.

Protests have been filed against both Hungary and Czechoslovakia for the arrests of Austrian citizens who have been alleged to have wandered over the borders.

Prediction Confirmed

Some years ago Aldous Huxley wrote a classic spoof of science fiction and statist ideas which he called Brave New World. It portrayed a society in which, among other things, all babies came from test tubes in spotless factories and the naughtiest words in the language (never used in mixed company) were "mother," "father" and "family."

Huxley's tongue-in-cheek prediction has come at least partially true, it seems to us, with the announcement by Britain's socialist-conceived Government Health Service that it stands ready to help any childless couple have a family by means of artificial insemination. The government, in other words, proposes not only to provide cradle-to-grave security for Britain's current citizens, but to help produce new citizens so that the market for its services will not dwindle.

The Chicago Tribune sees this as a socialist scheme "to produce more little socialists by test tube" and is intrigued by this new application of the law of supply and demand. However that may be, England has taken the first step toward the terrifyingly sterile and manageable society pictured by Huxley; his horrible little joke is beginning to come true.

Doctors Failed City in Hospital Drive

Editor, Post-Crescent: The Appleton Memorial hospital drive will probably attain its goal of $700,000. But eventual success will never erase the miserable performance of a group of Appleton citizens who should have an overwhelming interest both in the development of the hospital and its successful future operation. The present drive would have reached its quota ere now if the medical men and women of our city had subscribed only 60 per cent of their agreed upon share of the total goal! During the initial hospital drive, except for the magnificent generosity of a handful of physicians, the financial assistance rendered by our doctors was diminutive to say the least! If this letter were to list the names of the outstanding members of the local medical society who have contributed absolutely nothing in either drive, or had contributed such token contributions as $10, $15 or $20, we would all hear outraged cries of righteous indignation from all corners of the local medical world. Unfortunately, those conscientious physicians who did give generously (and there were some) are painted with the same brush as their indifferent fellows. But, by and large, the fact cannot be dodged, the medical profession of Appleton has performed miserably.

Their claims of "ethics" and "service to suffering humanity" become even more hollow when we refer to the medical group's donations to the annual Community Chest drive.

One is almost forced to the conclusion that too many of our doctors are basically interested only in themselves and the dollar and professional ethics, etc., are hollow mockery. Personally, I believe in and trust the skill and capabilities of our doctors. I have great confidence in their knowledge and technical ability. I am aware of the many hours they give to help those in need.

But for them to let this suffice as an answer to their community responsibilities is ridiculous, and I along with hundreds of others, resent it deeply.

Red Tape, Indecision in Defense Plans Revealed Before Committee

BY GEORGE SOKOLSKY

(Copyright, 1958)

Donald W. Douglas, Sr., has had a long career, 40 years, in the manufacture of civilian and military airplanes and recently in the building of missiles of all sorts. In fact, the Douglas Aircraft Company already has produced nearly 20,000 missiles for the defense of the country.

Appearing before Sen. Lyndon Johnson's senate preparedness subcommittee, Douglas spoke optimistically of the work done and in process but he made a point about what seemed to have slowed up missile development in this country. He said:

"One of the most formidable obstacles in the way of getting things done swiftly and efficiently is the time-consuming, agonizing process of waiting for official decisions. By that I mean decisions which will stand and on which we can act. This applies not only to the start of any given project but to the various phases of it as we proceed.

"Delay and indecision on the part of many in the defense establishment can be as damaging to us in the long run as any action by a potential aggressor."

Costs Money, Too To this must be added the enormous cost of delay and indecision and uncertainty. Douglas testified:

"One conspicuous example of failure to make early and firm decisions is the Zeus anti-missile project. Nearly two years ago we felt this weapon was sufficiently feasible to warrant a go-ahead, but so far only a small fraction of the necessary funds has been made available. Even in the case of Thor, after successful test firings, we waited from August to December for an order to increase production on this much needed missile."

Apparently, from the testimony before this committee, there is a continuation of the production of obsolete or less adequate materials after improved ones have appeared. Such evidence arose when Sen. Kerr of Oklahoma asked questions about the plane C-132. Donald Douglas, Jr., replied to that one:

"The C-132 under normal payload conditions could carry more than twice the payload at a long range than the C-133 that is now being ordered. The C-133 presently can carry about 40,000 pounds 3,500 miles.

"The latest order for 15 C-133s has a slight engine improvement which raises that payload to 50,000 pounds. The C-132 could have carried 100,000 to 110,000 pounds payload 3,500 miles, and under wartime conditions close to 200,000 pounds 3,500 miles. So it was more than twice as capable as the C-133, and was about a hundred knots faster."

The C-132 project was cancelled because there was not enough money but after we had already spent $70,000,000 on the improved product. The Russians have a plane similar to the C-132, the TU-147P which they are building in quantities.

Here is an instance where it is not a question about the Russians being smarter; they are apparently able to make their decisions, whereas we do not have a governmental mechanism for an immediate decision.

Contractor Takes Risks One of the major difficulties that faces any military project in this country is that the financing of it is never businesslike. The contractor takes all the financial risks but he never can tell what the government is going to do. Being a major contractor for the government entails extraordinary financial risks because of delays and paper work and the mix-up of renegotiation. Douglas, Sr., said that his company "... devotes upward of 400,000 man-hours a year in preparing such reports for a long list of government agencies."

Then Donald Douglas, Sr., made this point:

"... I say again, we are in dire need of funds as required and decisions made with promptness, imagination and courage. Given this we can put to rest some of the hysteria which holds that Russia has hopelessly outstripped us in the technical field and can move again into our position of world leadership."

Edwin Weisl, committee counsel, stated to Douglas that witnesses before the committee had not been pessimistic:

"... What they did say was this: that the rate of progress that Russia is making is so great that unless we take extraordinary and speedy steps to meet that progress, we will become a second-rate nation and we will be outstripped technologically and militarily."

"Do you agree with that?" "Mr. Douglas, Sr. I do agree with that."

It is important that the widest distribution be given to this testimony because it was taken under the best methods for obtaining evidence.

Looking Backward

Bear Foretold Weather in 1879

79 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of Feb. 8, 1879.

Sunday being Candlemas Day, the following may not be inappropriate for forecasting the remainder of the winter. It will be remembered that the day was bright, consequently the bear came out and saw his shadow and ducked back grumblingly into his den and prepared to suck his paws and slumber for six weeks more.

The Indian said that on Candlemas Day the Old Bear came out of his den, and, if he was able to see his shadow, went back for another six weeks sleep.

Another saying of similar import was current in England:

"If Candlemas Day be fair and bright, Winter will have another flight."

If Candlemas Day be cloudy and wet, Winter its ends most surely has met."

The prudent farmers, however, were apt to shake their heads and say: "Candlemas Day half your corn and half your hay." One other old saying comes to mind: "As far as the snow blows in the door on Candlemas Day, the sun will shine before March."

And this in relation to health:

"If Candlemas be bright, the grave yards will be green;

If Candlemas be white, the grave yards will be lean."

25 YEARS AGO

Monday, Jan. 30, 1933

The three members of the faculty of the Appleton Orthopedic school, Mrs. Jessie Collins, principal, Mrs. Blanche Moser, teacher of the upper grades, and Miss Lois M. Mitchell, physiotherapist, were to attend the seventh conference of teachers and physiotherapists of orthopedic schools at Madison.

Employees of the Patten Paper company organized the Patten Mimeo Credit Union and a permit to operate was granted to the organization by the state banking department.

Mark S. Catlin, Sr., objected to be awakened at 6 o'clock on a Sunday morning by an itinerant salesman attempting to sell shirts — especially when the aforesaid shirts were wrapped in a bundle with some dirty clothing, and more especially when the salesman apparently was under the influence of "good cheer." And it was apparent at the police station that other residents of that neighborhood had the same feeling about the matter as Mr. Catlin, inasmuch as the police received several complaints. An itinerant was picked up and held at the police station until that morning when he was released with orders to leave the city at once.

State GOP Chairman Shows Party Loyalty

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — If there was any doubt about the party loyalty of Claude Joseph Jasper of Madison, it should have been removed when he took over the difficult and thankless job of chairman of the Republican party organization last week.

For, all window-dressing aside, there were no volunteers for the job. Had Jasper declined there would have been no successor to Philip Kuehn, who wanted out and who said so in unstinting finality. There was some speculation, astutely prompted by Kuehn, about other "candidates" for the succession. As a matter of bald fact, there were no other candidates. No other name was put in nomination for the sufficient fact that no other name was available.

Jasper now takes over a party that faces more problems than at any other time since he has been a moving member of its hierarchy. It may very well suffer further reverses this year. Jasper knows the chances as well as anybody, and the chances that his own reputation and peace of mind are subjected to as a consequence.

THE MAN

There are two unusual things about this selection. His accession interrupts the line of businessman leaders of the organization during modern times — as exemplified by the Coleman, Higley, Hood, Pierce, Kuehn succession of the last ten or twelve years.

He is the first man of recent times to rise to the top of the party without the traditional service in the ranks. Jasper has not been a precinct committeeman or a county chairman, or any of the other supposed prerequisites to elevation to the honored top place in a party. He was a member of the state committee only by reason of the fact that he was an officer of the group as treasurer. He has never been elected by a council of party workers, as are the district members of the committee who are respectively heads of their congressional district caucuses.

Jasper also comes into his new place with the handicap of being widely misunderstood. The conservatives in the party — or the "right wing" as the hostile commentators like to call them — are easily able to restrain their enthusiasm about his selection. Indeed, if the morale of the conservatives had been a little stronger, they might very well have protested Jasper's election. For he carries with him the onus of being closely associated with some of the less popular recent representatives of the creed and notably Walter J. Kohler, who is blamed for losing the special election for senator last fall.

THE RECORD

The fact is that Jasper has been as closely associated with the conservatives as with the moderates and the liberals. He was a strong advocate of the nomination of Sen. Robert A. Taft for president in 1952, for example.

That he was brought into the organization as party treasurer half a dozen years ago can be attributed to Thomas E. Coleman, the respected elder statesman of party politicians, now retired.

Jasper has had a close association with all factions of the party, and it may be a stroke of genius for the organization in its time of travail that it has chosen him to run its organization affairs. Surely he is as intimately acquainted with the involutions and convolutions of philosophy and personality within the party as anyone who could have been named and surely more informed than any other man who conceivably was available.

There is another note of consequence about the Jasper election: He is a lawyer whose business is primarily devoted to practicing before governmental tribunals. In the prevailing climate of opinion, it may be wondered whether the new party chairman will be vulnerable on that account, or whether he is prepared to sacrifice his professional practice to the exigencies of his party position.

President May Address UN on Space Weapons

Such Dramatic Gesture May Not Produce
Agreements on Arms Control From Reds

BY STEWART ALSOP

Washington — The launching of the first American earth satellite is likely to be the signal for a dramatic gesture by President Eisenhower.

S. Alsop

The president for international domestic politics. It would tend to control the ballistic missiles and other space weapons. The idea of convening a special session of the U. N. for this purpose started as a bright notion tossed out some time ago months by some middle level official. That image has been the center of a serious Republican asset in the last couple of weeks ago, five years. The Republicans when Sen. Majority Leader are badly in need of assets in Lyndon Johnson promised "undivided support" for the president if he would thus demonstrate initiative before the United Nations.

Now that the American satellite has been launched, the idea of calling a special session of the U. N. is very high on the list of things to be considered of a special by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

There are all sorts of reactions, some of them extremely practical, why the idea is being convened. On the most practical level, such a presidential appeal by initiative would certainly be good.

Even before Nikita Khrushchev's recent speech at Moscow, there was not much doubt that the Soviets would in fact say nay to any proposal for control of the space weapons. Now there is virtually no doubt at all. For Khrushchev placed conditions on control of the ballistic missiles, like dismantlement of the American forward bases, which he of course knew could not be accepted.

And that, oddly enough, is another reason why the plan for a presidential address to the United Nations is more likely than not to be adopted. For before Khrushchev spoke there was at least a small smidgen of hope the Soviets might be ready to talk seriously about control of the missiles.

Challenge Lead
The Soviets, it was argued, must know this country would in time challenge their lead in ballistic missiles. They must know the missiles, in their present crude stage of development, are still technically, as Secretary Dulles has said, "readily subject to be controlled."

They must know this stage will not last long and that control of the missiles, as Dulles has also said, will soon become "impossible."

Surely, the hopeful argument ran, the prospect of a world armed with these weapons of total and instant destruction could not be altogether agreeable to the Russians. Thus, it was thought, serious and secret negotiation with the Russians might actually produce the basis for an agreement to control the new weapons.

The hope that the Soviets might be willing to negotiate seriously was probably illusory anyway. If the plan for a presidential address to the United Nations is adopted it can be taken as a signal that the hope has been altogether abandoned. For whatever its advantages in other ways, such a dramatic gesture is obviously unlikely to produce any agreement whatever.

No January Road Deaths for First Time in 8 Years

Outagamie county has experienced its first traffic death free January in more than eight years, records of Coroner Bernard H. Kemps reveal.

Nine people met death on county highways during January in the previous eight years of record keeping. Kemps said the month just ended however was free of fatalities.

The coroner's office last month held an inquest into a December traffic fatality, investigated one industrial death in Kaukauna and investigated one other death which was determined to have been from natural causes.

Story of a wish come true, told by

C. C. Guell, Vice President, Thorp Finance Corporation

a business born of confidence in people

Happy birthday after all!

a Thorp customer helped it happen . . .

A bike! That's all Jimmy wanted for his birthday. He needed it, too — for school, for wholesome fun, and to get a newspaper route so he could start saving for college. But how could Dad afford the bike — snowed under by regular monthly payments, plus bills for furnace repairs and his youngest's tonsilectomy.

He hated to face his boy on that birthday. Then his good friend in the shop told him how easily he'd always borrowed money for emergencies from Thorp — and recommended he see Thorp Finance for a loan. So Dad went to his local Thorp office manager, who welcomed him warmly, discussed his problem with friendly understanding, and lent him the cash he needed to clear up his debts and make that boy's birthday one he'll never forget! The terms? Just one small repayment a month fitted to Dad's ability to pay.

But don't you wait for a recommendation from one of Thorp's thousands of friends and customers. Whenever you need $50 to $5000 or more — simply telephone or visit any one of Thorp's 70 offices. The manager wants to help you.

Rich Texans Not Popular With Pegler

He Doubts Stories of Heavy Spending Against Communism

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York—I would not give $5 to frisk all the millionaires in Texas because, I, myself, and some of my friends in the red-baiting business have taken occasion to observe them and it is our observation that a Texas millionaire's favorite pocket-piece is a half-dollar.

Pegler and that they have developed a fascinating little trick they perform so casually that they seem to do it instinctively. They roll it on their fingers, as a magician would, then they fold it and put it back in their pants.

I first heard of it from a beautiful patriotic woman in Dallas, Mrs. Dan Smoot, known to her friends as Betty, in a discussion of H. L. Hunt, who was going to dollar-for-dollar all the millionaires of the eastern seaboard in a campaign to save our beloved country from the fate of Poland, Hungary, the Baltics and all them Mrs. Smoot's husband, a former agent of the FBI, does a broadcast and TV show and kicks out a little political pamphlet called the Dan Smoot report. This Hunt decided to underwrite or subsidize him out of his hundreds of millions.

Won Crap Game
Hunt made his hundreds of millions starting with a ten the hard way, which won him $500 in a crap game on a blanket up near Smackover, Ark., a few days before the whole county went up in the air, dissolved in a gusher.

Smackover is a clay-eater's corruption of Sumac Cover, the regional name of the spread where down toward the Civil war there were millions of quails and ducks and other feathered friends.

Everybody in those parts took off lickety-run when that gusher went up except Mr. Hunt. Some of my friends down there say he had worn a hole in his pants pocket and his folded four-bills had slid down through and of course you couldn't expect a man to light out leaving his half-dollar. So there was Mr. Hunt, all alone in Smackover, down on his knees in the rich, oily muck and muttering morosely.

I done heard down thataway that Mr. Hunt done bought his self a great big cotton-patch with his $500 from the crap-game and that when the soil came plopping back to yarth after the gusher, he said to his self well that soil wouldn't be fittin' to grow no cotton for nine ten years, all messed up with petroleum. So he decided to poke some wells down in the yarth and put some bar's and washboilers and a cattle-tanks around to hold it and if you need a blueprint from that point on, you ain't payin' attention.

I met Hunt myself once in the Waldorf tower in New York, right across the hall from the lair of Arthur J. Goldsmith, the toothless dragon of the letter-head political layouts that dribble petty money into Utah, Idaho, New Hampshire and Vermont to elect senators, cheap, but beholden to New York. Hunt sent word he'd like to get seen by me. Having seen them all from Helly Green down to Joe Kennedy, and found them pretty much alike, I dropped in. But he was by no means stimulating so pretty soon I said I had a date to set fire to an orphanage, and went away.

Dry Run
Since then I have heard that Hunt went into conniptions and buck-jumps when he got the tab for a little old dry run, practically just nothing, at a practice swing, in the noble mission of saving his beloved homeland. More $5,000. So he high-tailed it back to inexpensive and beloved obscurity.

Down that way you hear about Clint Murchison and Sid Richardson as big, open-handed spenders against communism. Maybe they are, but I just reach back in my mind and remember that they were the characters who got Elliott to persuade his old man to sail a cruiser and a destroyer over from Galveston to their private island in the Gulf of Mexico for a barbecue and poker-party back in the thirties. Our late great leader had a fabulous run of luck playing seven-toed Pete that evening. I don't think that hospitality costed the hosts a smidge of the worth of the good; will they reaped from that luxurious night on the old frontier, I have never heard tell of a dollar that they ever showered down to support any counter-revolutionary movement. Nor any other Texas millionaires, either.

Old Uncle Jesse Jones was against communism absolutely and favored private enterprise absolutely. But he left his money to foundations as bloodless as a Carnegie library when he should have remembered that foundations almost inevitably settle into the hands of the reds and finance their work.

Old Jack Garner, down in Uvalde, has a chattel mortgage on every swallow nester's rusty iron stove in a stretch as big as Pennsylvania. A very rich and very honest man. And I am laying 8 to 5 he won't leave a dollar to defend any emotional Americans from malicious litigation or income tax hatchet jobs directed by any of the fronts in the index of the house committee.

The surest way to get mistook for a millionaire in Texas is to dress seedy and leave nickel tips for the footsore little girls in the lunchrooms.

Set Insurance Rate Talks

Marine Bureau Asks Hearing on State's Refusal to Grant Hike

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — The proper rate level for personal property loss insurance will be the subject of a hearing as a result of the state insurance department's refusal to accept a rate increase proposed by the Inland Marine Insurance Bureau, acting for underwriters in the field.

The department said it will hold a hearing here on Wednesday, in compliance with the request of the bureau which acted under the provisions of state law governing refusal of the regulatory agency to accept rate filings.

It is understood that the bureau's proposal would have increased charges, principally involving the so-called "personal property floater," about $170,000 in Wisconsin.

Issues to be argued in the hearing include the weight which will be given to Wisconsin inland marine underwriting experience, as against that of the country as a whole, in the setting of rates, and whether underwriting experience on scheduled property coverage should be considered in judging rates on the so-called "floaters."

The department said it will also consider whether the rates proposed for personal fur and personal jewelry classes are designed to produce excessive returns.

Chuters Dump Wayland 63-36 in Non-Loop Test

Limit Academy Team to Only 10 Points in Second Half, Pressing Defense Works

Little Chute — In their best offensive effort of the season, the St. John High school cagers thumped Wayland Academy 63 to 36 here Saturday night.

After a close first half the Chuters broke loose for 32 points in the second half while throwing up a pressing defense that limited the Wayland club to only 10 points in the final periods.

The win was the seventh of the season for St. John against eight losses. Their next appearance will be Thursday night when St. Norbert of DePere visits the Little Chute court for a Catholic conference booster game being sponsored by the Athletic association.

31-26 at Half

St. John moved to a 13 to 8 lead at the end of the first period but Wayland came back strong at the start of the second quarter to tie the score at 18 all. The Dutchmen then caught fire and moved to a 26 to 20 lead which they held for the rest of the period. The score at the intermission was 31 to 26 with St. John in front.

Working the pressing defense to perfection in the third and fourth frames, the Dutchmen scored 17 points in the third quarter while holding the academy club to three field goals. This gave the Chuters a comfortable 48 to 32 lead.

Coach Bill Fitzpatrick gave his starters a chance to enjoy their biggest margin of the season for the first three minutes of the final period and then used substitutes freely.

Tim Tousey, Noel Vandenberg and Don Hermen sparked on defense for St. John as they broke up plays and stole the ball from the Wayland guards.

Hammen Scores 18

Ed Hammen, sophomore and leading scorer on the team, bagged nine field goals for 18 points and the game's scoring honors. Most of Hammen's buckets came on neat passes from Hermen and Vandenberg that set him up for short shots.

In the fourth quarter the Dutchmen had 15 points while Wayland was held to four free throws and not a field goal.

Dan Romanenko played one of his best floor games of the season for the Chuters and chipped in with 12 points for runnerup honors in scoring. Lyle Neuhaus and reserve Tom Geerts controlled the back boards most of the game.

For Wayland Fred Elom of Neenah was the high scorer with six field goals and a free throw for 13 points. His running mate at guard, Bill Danick followed with 11 markers.

MENTAL ILLNESS CAN HAPPEN TO ANYONE... BUT IT'S NOT HOPELESS!

Mental illness isn't scary. It pays no attention to vital statistics like age, sex, wealth, occupation, etc. No one is immune to mental illness... no one!

You who read this and we who write it have been lucky. The 16 million people mentally ill at this very moment have not been lucky. They need our help. They need it badly.

Medical progress has cleared away much of the mystery about mental illness. In fact, with what doctors know today, with what doctors know today, 70% of all mental patients could improve or recover completely. Why don't they? Simply because most mental hospitals do not have the staff, the equipment, and the facilities they need to put this scientific knowledge into everyday practice.

That's where we come in. Our understanding and support can help these people get well — help them return to their families, their jobs, their lives!

We who have never faced the darkness of mental illness can do much to bring others out of it! Today, please work with and support your local Mental Health Association.

CONSTIPATED? New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloat or gripe

Most constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thirty" colon that loves so much moisture that its contents become so dry they block the bowel, so shrunken they fail to stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to stimulate the colon to action; to a normal urge to purge. And, of all laxatives, only new COLONOID, possesses its great moistening capacity plus its stretch-stimulating bulk. So effective it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, yet is so gentle it has been hospital proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy.

Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONOID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins or food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions.

It's a physiological fact. Exercise tones your body! And COLONOID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Get COLONOID, in easy-to-take tablets, today! Introductory size, only 98c, at all drug stores.

then picked up a rifle and fired. The bullet hit Miss English in the side.

No charge was placed against McAllister or English.

A Paducah policeman said McAllister apparently was just "an over-enthusiastic specta- tor."

Meanwhile, police on foot and car, aided by helicopters above, continued the manhunt for Bur- ton.

Little radioed for help after Burton had left a house in a remote part of McCracken county near here where he and Harold Davis, 33, held Little and Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Shel- ton for 24 hours.

Davis, a former convict and Burton's brother-in-law, shot himself in the chest and was in critical condition in a Paducah hospital. He had apparently be- come frightened by a television broadcast concerning the search in which stiff penalties for kidnaping were mentioned.

Little and the Sheltons were unharmed.

Calm After Release

Burton left the house armed with Little's service revolver and his own .32-caliber pis- tol.

Little appeared calm and composed after his release and took part in the search for Bur- ton until Lt. Col. Edmund Hock- aday of the Missouri Highway patrol ordered him brought in.

The trooper said he was afraid during the chase into the Paducah area Saturday night that he might either be killed by his captors or in a smashup during the wild chase.

"I figured that last (Sat- urday) night was it," Little said. "I thought we would be stopped or would crash into another car."

Burton had taken over the wheel of Little's commandeered patrol car, the trooper said, and would lean back occasion- ally to fire at a pursuing Ken- tucky state police car with a pistol.

Burton drove over curbs, through filling station drive- ways, and turned corners at reckless speeds, Little said. Efforts to contact the pursuing Kentucky police cars by radio and tell them to pull back were futile, Little said, because the radios were on different wave lengths.

Little telephoned his wife be- fore joining her at Cape Gir- ardeau, Mo., early today and reported after the conversation that she "was all shook up."

According to Little, Burton said he had used the pistol to kill a policeman in San Fran- cisco about three weeks ago.

Little, a calm, 6-footer with four years on the Missouri Highway patrol, was taken as a hostage Saturday after he stopped Davis and Burton in their California licensed auto for a routine check.

"There was just something about it that made me do it," he said last night.

Imre Horvath, Hungary's Foreign Minister, Dies

with a fiery explosion witnessed by hundreds.

The 4-engine MATS transport, carrying service personnel and reservists, had taken off from nearby Long Beach Municipal airport for McGuire Air Force base, N. J., five minutes earlier. All 41 aboard were killed.

The twin-engine navy Nep- tune had departed from the Los Alamitos Naval Air station, a few miles away, about 15 min- utes before the crash. Aboard the bomber were eight reserv- ists on a routine training flight. Two survived.

Some of the passengers on the MATS plane were aerial "hitch-hikers"—reservists who were accommodated on a non- priority basis. Others were ac- tive duty personnel on reas- signment or leave.

Alvar B. Sandquist, 43, of Anaheim, Calif., a teacher, was flying east for a progress con- ference on his work toward a doctorate at the University of Minnesota.

Lt. Cmdr. Peter Bol of Port Hueneme, Calif., was to have been honored in Washington, D. C., tomor- row as navy chaplain of the year.

A weekend visit with her family came to a deadly cli- max for Air- man Peggy B. Johnson.

The parents of Coast Guards- man David R. Jennings, 21, saw the explosions that ripped the transport apart. But it was three hours later before they learned the plane was the one they saw their son board. They heard the announcement on television.

The two aircraft fell some 2½ miles apart.

The navy bomber crashed in damp earth of an abandoned clay pit, missing blocks of homes by a few hundred feet.

The transport, disintegrating as it fell, hit in one of the bus- iest sections of Norwalk. Its tail section crushed a service station and its fuselage ripped into the parking lot and ga- rage of the sheriff's office sub- station across the street.

By some miracle only one of Norwalk's 69,000 residents died in the accident. She was a 23- year-old housewife, Mrs. Edith Hernandez, who was decapitated by a flying piece of wreck- age.

Both planes were piloted by veterans. Maj. Jordan M. Aug- ustenberg, 36, flight command- er of the transport, had been flying for 15 years. Lt. Cmdr Augustenberg Hubenette Robert Hubenette, pilot of the navy plane, was a pilot during World war II and flew regular- ly as a reservist.

In Good Taste Vetoes Idea Of Negligee As Present

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: One of the girls in our office is going to be married soon and it is customary to take up an office collection and buy the bride-to-be a present. The girl who is taking up the collection is very friendly with the bride-to-be and has suggested that we buy her a negligee, which she admired in one of the stores. I think such a present is much too personal to give from an office group consisting of both men and women and that something for her future house would be in far better taste. We are awaiting your decision on this matter.

Answer: I definitely agree with you.

Dear Mrs. Post: My boss and his wife are having open house a week from Sunday for all his employees. One of the girls in our office thinks that we should take a small gift, such as a box of candy or a bouquet of flowers to his wife. I do not think we should take anything to the party and the proper way to show our appreciation would be to perhaps send a thank-you card with some flowers the next day. Will you please tell us what is the correct thing to do in this situation?

Answer: No gift will be expected and all that you need do is on leaving to express your thanks and say how much you enjoyed the party. To send some flowers the next day would be a nice thing for you to do, but is certainly not necessary.

No Name Tags
Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I are giving a large cocktail party shortly for friends and acquaintances. Many of the guests will be strangers to each other and it will be impossible to introduce everyone. Would it be in good taste to have all the guests wear name tags, and if so, will you please tell me how this is handled? I would very much appreciate hearing from you on this matter.

Answer: No, please don't! It would make your party seem like a business convention.

Traditional Fare Cherry Dessert Brightens Party Table for February Holidays

A quick flip of the calendar Saturday and overnight, Fox Cities residents banished January's post-holiday doldrums and lean budgeting days and rejoiced in the arrival of the gay party month of February.

Ahead lay the gay celebrations of Lincoln's birthday, Feb. 12, rapidly followed by Valentine's day, Feb. 14, and then only a pause until Washington's birthday on Feb. 22.

February's symbols of the heart and the flag offer unlimited inspiration in party-planning. Cheery bright red keying both sentimental and patriotic motifs touches menu and decor with colorful flair and perks up winter-tired spirits.

Bright attractions on the party table are cherry desserts, traditional to the month of February. Eye-tempters, the mouth-watering fruit treats are also rich in nutritive value.

Syrup pack cherries, a sweetened fruit, star in Cherry Cheese Pie, a graham cracker recipe which features a cherry glaze top. The sweetened cherries were introduced to the market this year and their use reduces the amount of sugar in a recipe.

Cherry Cheese Pie

Pie Crust

18 graham crackers (1 1/2 cup crumbs)

1/3 cup melted butter

1/2 cup sugar

1/2 teaspoon cinnamon

Filling

1 cup sugar

1 cup cream

3/4 cup milk

3 eggs, slightly beaten

1/2 teaspoon salt

1/2 teaspoon vanilla

1 1/2 cups cottage cheese, dry

Cherry Glaze

1 cup syrup pack cherries, drained

1/2 cup sugar

2 tablespoons cornstarch

1/2 teaspoon salt

2 tablespoons cherry juice

few drops red food coloring

Line a 9-inch pie pan with mixture of graham cracker crumbs, 1 cup sugar, cinnamon and butter. Bake 10 minutes at 350 degrees. Cool. For filling, scald cream and milk together. Mix 1 cup sugar, salt, vanilla and cottage cheese together and stir into beaten eggs. Pour into cooled crust and bake at 425 degrees for five minutes, then reduce heat to 325 degrees and bake for 40 minutes. Cool.

For glaze, combine 1 cup sugar, cornstarch, salt, cherries, cherry juice and food coloring. Cook until transparent and then cool. Spread cooled glaze on top of cooled pie filling and serve.

County Homemakers clubs will not meet for regular project discussions during February as various regional and state farm institutes have been scheduled. Several groups, however, have chosen to meet for a social gathering or have planned a special program.

Nichols club will sponsor a public card party Thursday evening, Feb. 13, at Nichols State Graded school. Lunch will be served.

Never Idle club members will gather Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 11, at the home of Mrs. Earl Breitrack, route 1, Hortonville. The Mmes. Ed Bauman, Francis Bauman and Horace Larson will serve the lunch.

A farm institute at Hortonville Feb. 12 will be attended by the Busy Bees club to replace a regular meeting session.

Cake decoration will be demonstrated by a representative of Elm Tree bakery at a meeting of the Coffee Cup club at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening, Feb. 12, at the home of Mrs. Francis Faulks.

Mrs. Arlen Asmus, Neenah, will entertain the Merry Maidens club Tuesday evening, Feb. 11.

Holiday club has chosen to meet Feb. 11 at the residence of Mrs. Mary Van Handel. Games group will be entertained at a luncheon by Mrs. Alvin Tiedt, 926 W. Oklahoma street, with a

Parents Find They're Minority Stockholders in Family Court

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: We are average American parents with average American children — that is to say, they are lazy, disobedient, rebellious, altogether charming and astute politicians.

Our two teenage daughters keep us broke and nervous. The boys, 12 and 9, Ann Landers keep us harried and exhausted. We don't want to spoil their young fun by being too strict, but they've taken advantage of our generosity and now we can't get them to do anything that faintly resembles work. Also, they are fresh and irresponsible. Most of our friends are having similar problems with their teenage children.

Several months ago the kids hit on the idea of "family court," with each member of the family having one vote. Of course we always lose because the kids gang up on us and vote as a solid block.

They say the majority should rule in a democratic setup. What can we do? We're outnumbered — MINORITY STOCKHOLDERS.

The kids not only have you outnumbered, they also have you outsmarted. The majority rule is fine—for governments. But it doesn't work so well in mental institutions, penitentiaries, or families with more than two children. The sad truth is, my friends, you are scared to death of your kids and they know it.

Lower the boom and start to call the signals before your children are beyond hope. Not only do they need discipline, but believe it or not, they want it.

Adolescents must feel some solid ground beneath their feet. Kids who can do as they darn well please are neither happy nor secure. You owe it to your children to guide them with a firm (but loving) hand.

DEAR ANN: I just finished reading the letter from the woman who complained bitterly because her 80-year-old mother-in-law lives 150 miles away and they have to go visit her several times a year. Is this woman nuts or what?

My mother-in-law is 78 and lives in the same town with us and drives the family crazy. We'd give anything if she lived 150 miles away and was able to take care of herself.

I used to think advice columns were the bunk, but the more I see of yours the more convinced I am that yours serves a good purpose. Reading about other people's problems can sometimes make us realize how well off we are. I hope the woman who wrote that letter sees this one.

I'd gladly make her a deal, Ann. If she'll put up with my mother-in-law, I will be more than happy to go visit her "several times a year."—MRS. QUACKENBUSH

DEAR ANN: I need help. I'm a girl 18, normal in every way, yet I've never had a date. Several nice boys have asked me out, but my father says I'm not to go with boys until I'm 21 because they are all after one thing and can't be trusted with a girl who is under-age.

My mother is scared to death of my father, do not tell me to ask her to talk to him. She won't do it.

I'll be 19 in two months and I'm miserable. Whenever he hears a girl has gone wrong he gives me a 2-hour lecture and says "I know what I'm doing. You'll thank me some day."

You need the help of a third party — someone for whom your father has respect. Perhaps your clergyman or a teacher can talk to him and make him see that his unfairness could ruin your life.

If he refuses to listen, he should plan to leave home as is sick, sick, sick and you soon as you can do so legally.

Moon Launching Ranks as Major U. S. Triumph

But Event Fails to Stand as Important Military Development

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington — What does the successful launching of the American "sputnik" really mean? What influence will it have on world affairs in general and on American domestic policy in particular?

Lawrence

Some of the answers to these questions can be summarized about as follows:

1. Propaganda-wise, throughout the world, as revealed by the short-wave radio stations on both sides of the Iron Curtain which have been broadcasting news and comments about it in the last 72 hours, the event is an unquestioned triumph for America—a plus of tremendous proportions. America now is held to be equal in the race in which only a few months ago it was believed inferior.

2. The Soviet Union's propaganda is still a bit boastful, but, on the whole, the American achievement is welcomed by the Soviet commentators for a strange reason—it might hasten the day of east-west talks at the "summit." It came to be recognized even in Moscow that the west couldn't talk from a position of seemingly inferior strength as long as only a Russian "sputnik" was spinning around the world. But now, with the score even up so far as technique is concerned, there is a belief abroad that American officials will change their viewpoint and go for the "summit" talks soon on a basis of "equality" of position.

3. Militarily, the episode isn't as important as many people have been led to believe. Satellites are not military weapons. It's the missile that counts. America successfully fired big missiles of long range more than a year ago, and it's the progress of the race in missiles that's important.

4. Questions will be asked as to why the United States didn't launch a satellite a year ago as the experts now say could easily have been done. The answer is that the highest officials of the United States regarded it as a scientific rather than a military project and decided to wait for the international geophysical year program in 1958, in which scientists of all countries were to participate. The real reason for putting it off, however, was a fear complex on the propaganda side in the government here—a belief that the United States would be regarded as a "warmonger" and as flaunting her military power. "Sabre rattling" had long been condemned here as an unwise policy, and the belief was that such a spectacular stunt would hurt rather than help American prestige as a peace-loving nation.

5. Political effects domestically will inevitably be felt this election year. Just as the Eisenhower administration was severely castigated by critics inside and outside of congress who "viewed with alarm" a lag in the development of satellites for travel in outer space, so today the tables have been turned. The Republicans now "point with pride." The administration shows it can do what the Russians did. Details of the differences between the American and the Russian "sputnik" may be discussed in scientific circles, but the public impression today is that America has evened up the race and can do what the Russians have done. It's a kind of restoration of "pride." Actually it was an illusion that swept the country—the belief that the launching of the Russian "sputnik" meant that America was in some military danger and that congress had better begin pouring out billions to meet the "for-God's-sake-do-something" hysteria.

6. There's no doubt that a psychological lift now will be given to the American military position that swept the country in the opinion of the peoples of the free world. European papers already are applauding the achievement almost as enthusiastically as if each western country had had a part in it.

May Give Lift

7. Psychologically, it may give a lift also to the mood inside the United States. A feeling of discouragement seized the country during the last three months of 1957 after the Russian "sputnik" hit the headlines. This coincided with a downward trend on the charts of business conditions. Maybe the American "sputnik" will usher in a new era of optimism. Little things sometimes set off chain reactions that have nothing to do with the point of origin.

Anyway, Americans feel better today than they did in early October, when the Russian "sputnik" was "beeping" around the earth alone. The "Explorer"—as our "sputnik" has been named—is a spectacular symbol of American determination as well as capacity to meet any rival in the field of applied science. American scientists have not always been responsible for some of the most important basic research, but in many things like radar and penicillin, discovered abroad, the scientists of the United States have learned how most effectively to use and make practical the inventions of others.

Fifty-three cases of communicable diseases were reported in Appleton last week. Deputy City Health Officer Claude N. Greisch's office said today. Chickenpox accounted for 28 cases; mumps for 21; scarlet fever for 3, and measles for one.

Works Board To Open Bids On 11 Items

The board of public works will open bids on 11 pieces of equipment or projects at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at city hall.

They include a fire truck with a 65-foot aerial ladder, three dump trucks, two garbage trucks, two refuse bodies for the garbage trucks, an air compressor, a front-end loader, a motor street sweeper, a 19,000-pound Gross Vehicle Weight grain body truck, 15,000 lineal feet of copper cable, 10,000 lineal feet of different-size copper cable and new flooring for the main floor of city hall.

Land Purchases

Purchase of land for a school site and combination school-park site or park site also is on the agenda. More than a half dozen offers of land could be studied.

It is unknown whether purchase of the Marston property, on E. Kimball street, east of the vocational school, for a vocational school expansion site will be discussed. Negotiations are in progress.

The board also has before it applications from about 10 architects and engineers for the job of planning an outdoor swim pool on the south side. The matter, however, is not likely to be taken up.

Grand Chute Firemen Extinguish Oil Space Heater Chimney Fire

Town of Grand Chute volunteer firemen extinguished a chimney fire at the Earl McLaughlin home, 713 Whitman avenue at 5:45 Sunday afternoon.

Fire Chief Vincent Baum said the blaze started when an oil space heater smoke pipe caught fire.

There was no damage.

Thief Gets $93 From Office

A thief stole $93 after prying open a strong box Sunday night or early this morning in the office of Dr. R. S. Simenson, 1314 N. Oneida street.

A drawer type strong box, 15 by 17 by 21 inches, was forced open with a small bar, police said. The theft was discovered about 8:20 this morning.

Police said a rear window of the home in which the office is located was forced open, apparently by a burglar. The loot was entirely in bills. Police said the thief apparently knew exactly what he wanted because the office was not ransacked.

USIA Points to Promises Broken by Communists

BY RICHARD KASISCHKE

Vienna.—The U. S. Information agency is striking back at communist propaganda pitches for a summit conference by quoting Lenin and citing broken Soviet promises.

These words of Lenin are being spread around the world: "Promises are like pie crust, made to be broken."

The USIA, which has the task of stating U. S. policies to the foreign public, has mounted a counter-attack against propaganda depicting Secretary of State Dulles as a man who can't say "yes" to proposals of peace talks.

The agency is distributing to foreign newspapers and radio stations pithy lists of promises broken by Moscow after past international conferences.

Since the Yalta conference in 1945, USIA says, "three American presidents and six secretaries of state journey to a score of high-level conferences with Soviet officials in 13 years in an effort to secure permanent agreements with the U. S. S. R." The USIA presents this report on Soviet postwar promises:

At Yalta, the allies agreed on free elections for Europe, but almost immediately afterwards the Russians "moved to impose firm communist control in Bulgaria, Romania, Poland and Hungary."

At Potsdam in August, 1955, "the U. S. S. R. made a number of pledges concerning the future of Germany, only to break them one by one."

In July, 1955, the Russians at the Geneva summit conference agreed to renounce Germany through free elections, "but less than four months later, at the Nov. 8 Geneva meeting of foreign ministers, Soviet Representatives said:

"The USIA adds: "Soviet disregard for treaty obligations has been only relatively constant since May, 1920, when the new communist regime pledged no interference in the internal affairs of the independent republic of Georgia. Soviet leaders launched a full-scale military invasion of Georgia less than a year later."

"Finland, Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania are among other nations whose non-aggression pacts with the U. S. S. R. were violated by Soviet military attacks."

The offer will be considered with about a half dozen others by the board of public works.

Israeli Police Hold Syrian Fishing Boat

Haifa, Israel.—An Israeli police launch brought a 150-ton Syrian fishing boat and its crew of seven into Haifa harbor today, but a police spokesman said they probably would be released soon.

The spokesman said the boat was intercepted in Israeli territorial waters yesterday. He added that it was assumed a navigational error had taken the fishermen off course.

Plan Feeder Main for New River Crossing

Water Utility to Put 12-Inch Pipe On E. College Ave.

The water commission has ordered plans for a 12-inch main to feed its proposed new river crossing.

Department Secretary Arthur Dimick said today the main would start at N. Drew street and go east along E. College avenue and then along N. Green Bay street to Riverside cemetery.

The new river crossing will be made from a point near the cemetery to another near E. Newberry street. It is expected to answer water needs of the city's southeast side for an extended period in the future.

There is a 16-inch main on N. Drew now, Dimick said and the water feeding it can be diverted from either of the two elevated tanks on W. Washington street and N. Oneida street.

Alternate Set Alford, Burdick and Howson Chicago water engineering consultants, are drafting the plans and specifications for the feeder main, Dimick said. Bids will be taken with an alternate that would permit construction from about N. Meade street to the cemetery before the N. Drew to N. Meade section is started.

The alternate was deemed necessary, he said, because of the proposed high level bridge construction which probably will begin late this year or early next year.

Plans for the river crossing are being drafted now.

Buy Machine The commission also ordered a $381.80 copying machine from Apco Auto-Stat, Chicago.

Recommendations for changes in the new storage and boiler rooms at the water office by the fire department will not be taken up until they are put in writing, commissioners decided.

Fire inspectors, Dimick said, want a vent and a sill under a door installed. The rooms previously met approval of fire insurance underwriters, he said.

Driver Hits Tree, Leaves Crash Scene

Police had to trace an Appleton man's car to his home to find who had knocked over a tree early Saturday morning at 1405 W. Packard street.

David H. Brueggeman, 20, 1427 W. Franklin street, admitted that his car skidded while making a turn from W. Packard onto S. Outagamie street and broke off the tree. Brueggeman left the scene and was located at his home, police said.

Police reported four minor accidents Sunday.

Bertrand H. Snell, Seaway Bacter, Succumbs at 87

Potsdam, N. Y.—Bertrand H. Snell, 87, Republican minority leader in the house of representatives until his retirement in 1933, died in Potsdam hospital yesterday.

Snell, known in Washington as "hard-boiled Snell," had lived in semi-retirement in recent years and had been in the hospital two weeks after becoming ill about two months ago.

Snell was a fighter all his life, a foe of Franklin D. Roosevelt and one of the first backers of the St. Lawrence seaway.

He made a fortune in the lumber business, then turned to hydroelectric power, cheese manufacturing and oil producing, and made fortunes in those ventures. He also owned a weekly newspaper.

In 1917, Snell introduced the first bill to authorize the seaway. He supported it throughout his career.

He entered congress in 1914 to fill a vacancy caused by death. In December, 1931, he won the minority leadership over the reported opposition of President Herbert Hoover after a 6-month battle that followed the death of speaker Nicholas Longworth. Hoover had supported John Q. Tilson of Connecticut.

2 Cars Stolen; 1 Found by Police

Two cars were stolen in Appleton over the weekend. One was recovered.

A 1950 green Chevrolet sedan was stolen about 10 o'clock Sunday night from a tavern at 744 E. Wisconsin avenue, police were told by the owner, Louis Dorka, 1502 N. Graceland avenue. Dorka said the keys were in the ignition.

Police recovered the 1953 car of Richard Kofnetka, route 2, Appleton, early Sunday morning after it was stolen sometime before midnight Saturday. The car was stolen while parked in the 500 block of W. Lawrence street and recovered at 1405 E. Wisconsin avenue.

Woman Gets Second Divorce From Husband

Mrs. Henrietta Meyer, 24, 3121 E. Coolidge avenue, has been granted an absolute divorce in municipal court from Raymond C. Meyer, 26, Appleton, on her grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment. Custody of two minor children was given Mrs. Meyer. The couple was married in Waukegan, Ill., Dec. 9, 1952, and separated Oct. 26, 1956. The couple previously was divorced and remarried.

Meyer was ordered to pay $20 weekly support for his two children and $5 weekly alimony to his former wife.

'Explorer' Didn't Take Expected Path

Washington.—Satellite Explorer gave the army-scientist team an anxious, nerve-racking seven minutes by flying out farther from the earth than had been estimated.

The tense drama in a Pentagon office, where scientists and army officers kept a second-by-second check on the launching at Cape Canaveral, Fla., Friday night, was described today by an army spokesman.

The satellite experts had calculated Explorer would go out as much as 1,500 nautical miles from the earth at the farthest point of its elliptical path—the "apogee." (A nautical mile is about 1.15 statute miles.) The estimated time needed for orbiting the earth was 106 minutes.

Instead, it sped out as far as 1,600 miles, and came down to 186 miles instead of about the 250 to 300 miles estimated for the low point. The actual time of orbit proved to be 115.1 minutes.

Instead of arriving over the west coast of the United States at 106 minutes on its first trip around, Explorer showed up at about 113 minutes.

Russian Reports to IGY on Sputniks Show 'Nothing New'

Brussels, Belgium.—Russia's reports on her two sputniks arrived at the International Geophysical year headquarters today but Secretary General Marcel Nicolet said they contained "nothing new."

"I received them this morning and I read them immediately," Nicolet reported. "They bring nothing new and nothing more than what we already knew on the subject."

"The reports contain no numerical data," he added.

CHILD FREED OF BED WETTING

That is news, especially to mothers who have seen their child suffer the humiliation of this social problem year after year, for 10-15-20 or even more years.

Don't be misled into believing every child out-grows bed wetting. The hard true facts are: Many never do. I know.

If you wish the information I have, it's free. Write Me. Mrs. Minnie Fredericksen, Box 14 Hales Corners, Wis. A stamped, self addressed envelope will be appreciated.

Heart Fund Campaign Opens in Twin Cities

Plastic Containers Distributed to Stores; House Canvass Set for Feb. 23

Neenah — Plastic heart containers were distributed Saturday to Twin City stores and business places by Optimists club members headed by Merion C. Shaw to signify the opening of the Heart Fund campaign here and in 7,500 other communities throughout the nation. Walter Chrapla is serving as chairman for the drive in Neenah-Menasha.

The Heart Fund is the annual campaign of the American Heart Association for voluntary contributions to support a nationwide program against diseases of the heart and blood vessels. Its slogan is "Help Your Heart Fund — Help Your Heart."

Next activity during the month-long drive in the Twin Cities will be the solicitation of support from business and industry. John R. Galloway, chairman of the business and industrial solicitation committee, pointed out that in supporting the Heart Fund campaign business firms are actually protecting their investment in trained executives and skilled employees.

He cited that 150 million man-days of production are lost in the United States annually from heart and blood vessel diseases at a cost of $3 billion. He urged the business firms of Neenah and Menasha to consider the 1958 Heart Fund campaign not as a charity but rather as a sound investment.

Continuing through the month of February, the drive will culminate Sunday, Feb. 23 when more than 425 women throughout Neenah - Menasha will knock at every door in a house-to-house collection to receive Heart fund contributions.

100 Children Vie in Skating Stunt Contests

Obstacle, Blindfold Races Lead to Spills in Menasha Meet

Menasha — The recreation department's "Stunt Day on Ice" at Racine street rink Sunday afternoon drew the largest turnout in its 3-year history with more than a hundred skaters going through novel tests. The children bumped, skidded, bounced and wobbled through 13 fun-styled races.

Surprise event of the day was the final stunt, an ankle race. Introduced for the first time, the event required skaters to hold their ankles while racing the length of the rink. Nancy Jayne, Michael Smith and Bill Steidl won the 6-8 year, 9-11 year and 12-14 year old divisions respectively.

The usual spills highlighted the obstacle course race where youngsters negotiated a course of hairpin turns and a jump one at a time against the stop watch. Dick Dachelet turned in the best time of the day to win the 12 to 14 year old division. His time of 10.6 seconds edged out Bill Knudsen's 11.2 second and Ray Knudsen's 12.1 seconds for top honors.

Greg Metko's 11.9 second stint won the 9 to 11 year group obstacle course race against 37 opponents. He was followed closely by Kenneth Sanderfoot's 12.1 seconds and Michael Smith's 12.5 seconds.

Blindfold Race
The opening event, the blindfold races, ended the usual way, with skaters all over the rink trying to find the official blowing the whistle. Because of the number of entrants, the 9 to 11 year old blindfold race was held in two sections to avoid mayhem, according to the recreation department.

Fifty-eight of the skaters received the prizes going to the top three finishers in each of the races. All of the prizes, which varied from rubber mice to shoe brushes and gyroscopes, were sealed in paper bags for a blind draw.

Winners of the stunt events were Karen Williams in the blindfold race for 6 to 8 year olds, Betty Lark in the first heat and Judy Deltz in the second heat for the blindfold race for 9 to 11 year group, Janet Keberlein in the coasting race for 12 to 14 year old girls, Nancy Jayne in coasting race for 6 to 8 year olds, Jim Dachelet and Dick Dachelet in the horse and buggy race for all ages.

County May Create Exclusive Lease

Cannot Exclude Competing Agencies From Seeking Business at Airport

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — Winnebago county as the owner and operator of the county airport at Oshkosh can make an exclusive lease with an auto rental agency, but there is considerable doubt that it is empowered legally to exclude competitive agencies from soliciting business there.

That was the answer sent Friday by Atty. Gen. Stewart Honeck to Jack D. Steinhilber, Winnebago county district attorney, on the powers of the county board on airport leasing arrangements.

The county airport committee is preparing to lease space to North Central Airlines, to a restaurant in the terminal building, and to an auto rental agency, the county attorney explained.

The state opinion agreed that the county as owner of the airport is entitled to make an exclusive lease with the auto agency, but added:

"It is doubtful whether it can lawfully exclude other agencies from soliciting business in the airport or terminal unless such regulation can be shown to be necessary for the convenience of the flying public or the efficiency of the operation of the airport."

Two car rental agencies were seeking an exclusive right to operate at the airport and offered to pay more for an exclusive lease than for a regular lease where both would be allowed to operate at the airport, the county board was informed last fall by its aviation committee.

Play Reading Added To 8 Other Contests; Will Select Best Two

Winneconne — Forty-five students already have signed for the forensics program at Winneconne High school in nine categories, including a new one this year, play reading. Students will be eliminated until there are two in each category. Those 18 students will attend a league contest at Bear Creek March 11, competing with students from Hortonville, Omro and Bear Creek. Winners from that contest will attend the district contest at Oshkosh March 29 where state entries will be picked.

The students are working on their entries during study periods and after school with the help of advisers. The advisers are Miss Barbara Conlee and Mrs. Elizabeth Gibson, English teachers, Jack Perry, social studies, and Mrs. Marjorie Eid, librarian.

Stomach Trouble Can Be Caused By Nerve Irritations

By Upton X. Furman, Chiropractor, Neenah

The stomach is a strong muscular organ very richly supplied with blood vessels and nerves. In its lining are embedded glands which secrete digestive fluids and hydrochloric acid. The function of the stomach is to aid in the digestion of fats and proteins.

No starch digestion takes place here. It also breaks down food particles into a fluid mass. That is why it is advisable to chew your food well so that your stomach does not have to do the work of your teeth.

The stomach is completely surrounded by a layer of nerves which control its movements and secretions. You have all noted this reflex action when at the sight or smell of food your mouth waters or your stomach rumbles.

In view of the foregoing facts it is easy to understand why any nerve irritation can cause stomach trouble whether it be from a state of mind or mechanical pressure from a vertebrae out of place in the spine. The Chiropractor is especially trained to locate and remove these nerve irritations.

Write-in Votes to Determine 1st Ward County Supervisor

Neenah — Voters in the new First ward have a roster of candidates for the county board post virtually equal to the number of voters in the ward. City Clerk R. V. Hauser said this morning that the representative of the First ward will be selected on the April 1 ballot, just as the other open offices of mayor, aldermen, school commissioners and supervisors.

No candidate declared himself for the First ward post before the Jan. 28 deadline. The supervisor therefore will be chosen solely on the basis of write-in votes. Whichever qualified person receives the most write-ins will be declared winner and will represent the First ward for two years on the county board.

The qualifications for write-in candidates are the same as for those whose names are printed on the ballot. Candidates need only be residents of Wisconsin for one full year and of the ward in which they are running for 10 days prior to the election. A write-in candidate, of course, must be willing to accept the post and take an oath of office should he receive a plurality of the votes cast.

There will be an appointment to the post only if no write-in votes are cast for qualified persons, or if the winner refuses to accept the post.

A majority of votes cast is not needed for write-in candidates or for declared candidates. Conceivably a man might receive five write-in votes for the First ward supervisor's post and be named winner, even though 10 other persons had received four vote each.

If two or more persons tie with the highest number of write-in votes, the city council may choose the winner by the drawing lots.

Agent Suggests How to Select Vitamin C Fruits

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau

Oshkosh — Most families don't get enough Vitamin C during the winter months, warns Miss Lois Klusmeyer, county home agent. Citrus fruits such as grapefruit, oranges and lemons along with tomatoes are among the more important sources of this vitamin.

The vitamin is necessary to build sound teeth, keep gums healthy, blood vessels strong and for general well-being. One of the less expensive ways to get Vitamin C is buying large-size cans of grapefruit juice or canned grapefruit and orange concentrates. The frozen concentrate is usually the most economical as far as cost and amount of Vitamin C available.

In selecting citrus fruits, pick those that are firm, well-shaped and fairly smooth-skinned. To pick a juicy orange or grapefruit, hold in your hand and if the fruit is heavy for its size, chances are it's juicy, advises Miss Klusmeyer. If it feels light in your hand, it's apt to be thick-skinned or dry and pithy.

Broiling grapefruit is a good treat for cold mornings. Sprinkle a half grapefruit with one tablespoon either white or brown sugar. Add a dash of cinnamon or nutmeg and a dot of butter. Place on a broiler rack about three inches from the heat. Broil until the fruit is heated through and slightly brown or about 15 to 20 minutes. Serve piping hot.

An innovation this year will be the addition of a grade school tournament run in conjunction with the regular event for adult independent teams in the area. Eight teams will compete in the adult tournament and eight in the grade school event.

The Menasha Macs are defending champions and will be back to defend their crown, according to Beguhn. Other adult teams entered include Gustman's Teachers, Beren's clothing and Shamrock bar, all of Kaukauna, the Brillion Athletic club and a team from either Kimberly or Combined Locks.

Grade schools already entered are the four Kaukauna schools, a Wrightstown Legion team and the Combined Locks Grade school team.

Awards Made — The adult championship team receives 10 individual trophies and one large trophy, the second place team receives individual trophies and a medium sized trophy and the third place team receives individual trophies and one small trophy.

Trophies will be awarded the three top grade school teams and individual awards will go to players on the first two teams as well as the all tournament team.

Games will be played on Sunday afternoons and weekday evenings. Sunday grade school games will start at 1:30 and adult games will start at 2:30.

Marquette's Wall Mangham seems stuck in the air after grabbing a rebound in Saturday evening's game with Boston college in the Milwaukee arena.

Warriors Reach .500 Mark on Easy Victory

Mike Moran Paces Conquest of Eagles With 23 Points

Milwaukee — Marquette's basketball Warriors pulled themselves up to the .500 mark (7-7) for the first time this season Saturday night with a surprisingly easy 80-64 conquest of Boston college at the arena.

Jack Nagle's unpredictable club connected on 18 of 36 shots from the floor in the first half for a 500 shooting average and wound up with creditable 30 for 72 — 417.

The Eagles, who entered the game with a shiny 11-1 mark, hit .379 on 25 for 66.

Mike Moran led Marquette with 23 points, Jack Glaser added 16 and Walt Mangham 11.

Six of the eight players who saw action for Nagle finished with double figures, George Giersch was high for the losers with 19.

Mangham's rebounding — he grabbed off 16 in the game — was a big factor. The 6-3 sophomore from New Castle, Pa., is seldom out-jumped. He was the national scholastic high jump champion.

Marquette rolled to a 41-33 huge at the half, then faltered somewhat as the Eagles crept to within four points, 47-43, with 19 minutes left.

Vicki Gutgesell of Wausau was second in the junior girls with four points, won by Rene Garven of Minneapolis with 15.

Vikings, Maroons Resume Rivalry

Lawrence Begins Second-Semester Cage Play With Bolstered Squad

Bert Elliott — a regular in the early part of the campaign — has been reinstated by Coach Don Boya after a 4-game suspension.

Close, 6-3 Appletonian, and the 6-2 Blust are good bets to add sorely needed scoring punch to the Viking forecourt.

Thomas, at 6-4, has also shown promise and looms as a help in the rebounding department.

Chicago and Lawrence have not met since the 1950-1 season. The three most recent games in the cage series have been won by the Vikes.

The Maroons got off to a good start, winning six of their first nine games. However, they lost to Knox, of the Midwest conference, 63-51, Saturday night.

Among Chicago's victims is Ripon. Another of its conquerors is Grinnell.

Davey Scored 32 — Other teams to beat Chicago are Lake Forest (which also victimized Lawrence) and Hope college of Michigan. The latter game ended in an unusual 25-14 score, as the Maroons used a stall or semi-stall most of the way.

Chicago's quintet is not tall but reportedly moves well. Its tallest starter is 6-3 Gary Pearson, whose best 1-game point total was 26 against the Chicago Teachers John Davey, an excellent, 5-11 guard, poured Tuesday Night's Games: Appleton at Central. West at Fond du Lac. Oshkosh at East. North at Manitowish.

BY JOHN L. PAUSTIAN Post-Crescent Sports Editor

The most-heard query in the Fox River Valley conference these days is "What happened to Sheboygan Central?"

The Redmen, who looked like bonafide basketball title contenders in winning their first four conference games, have dropped to the second division by losing a like number in succession.

No Time For Analysis — Appleton High school's Terrors will be heading Sheboyganway Tuesday night, but it's a reasonably safe bet they won't have much time to analyze the problem. They'll be too busy pounding up and down the armory floor trying to aggravate Central's dilemma.

Under more ordinary circumstances, a title-chasing team like AHS might be inclined to let down against an opponent burdened with four successive defeats. But, this is no ordinary instance.

The Dick Emanuel-coached Terrors have a score to settle with the Redmen. And, this will be their only opportunity to do it.

Last Dec. 13, Central parlayed (1) a gritty comeback, (2) the departure-via-fouls of Terror ace Jack Ullwelling and (3) officials' confusion into a 54-52 upset decision.

The home-court loss cost AHS valuable ground in its bid to retain the FRVC title. And the Terrors haven't fully made up that ground, yet. They go into Tuesday's action one game behind front-running Manitowish.

Scurry to Big Lead — In that unique and dramatic December game, AHS scurried to a 30-14 lead late in the first half. But, Central cut its deficit to eight points by halftime and came close late in the ball game.

A most unusual disallowance of an AHS basket (on Ullwelling's fifth foul) in the middle of games in the cage series have been won by the Vikes.

Central enabled the Redmen to tie the game. With Ullwelling out of there, a tight press reaped results: Central intercepted a pass and scored in the fading seconds. It was the only time this season Ullwelling has fouled out. Of his five fouls, he was

The 1957-58 Montreal Canadiens may go down as one of the most formidable teams in National Hockey league history—a club that has successfully overcome an injury jinx.

Not even a rash of ailments and accidents has been able to derail the Flying Frenchmen's runaway express. And the powerful Canadiens show no signs of letting up as they close in on a batch of league records.

With such key operatives as Maurice "The Rocket" Richard, Bernie "Boom Boom" Geoffrion and Bert Olmstead sidelined with injuries, Montreal still swept its weekend games. The victories increased the Canadiens' lead over the runner-up New York Rangers to 24 points.

Montreal defeated the Chicago Black Hawks, 3-1, Sunday night after turning back the Boston Bruins by the identical score Saturday night.

The Canadiens with 20 regular season games left, can make the "race" the biggest runaway in the annals of the league. The 1943-44 Montreal club won the title by 25 points over the Detroit Red Wings. The record for most games won in a season is 45, set by Montreal in 1955-56. Detroit holds the record for most points in a season, 101, in 1950-51.

Saved Him From Minors

Low Burdette Now Is Thankful for Early Chores as Relief Pitcher

BY WHITNEY MARTIN

New York — The former relief pitcher who beat the New York Yankees three games in the 1957 World Series was lolling in a hotel suite at Rochester, his restless hands constantly moving.

At least he thought it was Rochester. Low Burdette has been jumping around like a hooked bass lately, an honored guest here, a personal appearance there. He has to look at the telephone book to find out where he is at the moment.

He was on this occasion attending the Hickok award banquet. He had missed out as recipient of the $10,000 belt as professional athlete of the year largely because the votes favoring a baseball man were split between himself and Ted Williams, so the trophy went to Carmen Basilio.

"Break" Helps Him

The term "relief pitcher" is used advisedly. He was a relief pitcher until a break—literally, as it happened to be in Vern Bickford's finger—made him a starter, but he was both a starter and finisher in the three games against the Yankees.

He had become a relief pitcher back in 1952, as it appeared it would be the bullpen or back to the minors, and Lew was fed up to here with the minors, after knocking a round Norfolk, and Amsterdam, and Quincy, and Kansas City—then a minor—and San Francisco.

He had been tossed in on the deal like a belt with a new suit when the Yankees cast covetous eyes toward Johnny Sain of the Braves late in August, 1951. At the moment Burdette was Yankee property, although laboring with the San Francisco club. The Yankees paid $50,000, that relief chore. "I think I gained a lot of experience as a

Lew pitched a total of four innings in three games the bal-right away about pitching in the clutch.

Burdette's fame prior to the World Series was based partly on charges from various quarters in the National league that he was addicted to throwing the spitter, a charge which he always laughed off as too silly to affirm or deny.

One of the chief tossers of the verbal darts was Birdie Tebbetts, the slightly articulate Cincinnati manager who declared flatly Lew was using the illegal pitch.

This winter Burdette and Tebbetts found themselves on the same dais when their paths crossed on the banquet circuit.

Birdie introduced the Milwaukee pitcher.

"This boy has plenty of courtship game at Bradenton, he had age, and he uses everything a pitcher needs — and a little more," Birdie said.

Burdette is thankful now for

Delany Wins 18th Straight, Sets Sights on '60 Olympics

Boston — Irish Ron Delany, the turkey-trotting marvel of track, is looking ahead to the 1960 Olympics while adding to his victory string at the expense of all challengers on the indoor circuit.

"I want to win the 1,500-meter championship in the Olympics again in 1960," the Villanova senior from Dublin said.

Unlike some gold medal winners who complained of a let-down after victories at Melbourne two years ago, Delany said he thinks his competitive desire was whetted.

"When I won in Melbourne it was a great thrill," he said. "But I decided right then and there that I had another job to do in four years — retain my championship."

Zuehlke soared 193 and 170 feet and scored 218.5 points. His total included 102.5 points for form, acknowledgement that he was the most graceful rider of the day.

20-Mile Winds
The skiers bucked a wind of 20 miles an hour, which prevented them from approaching the Anderson hill record of 223 feet, set last year by Finland's, Johan Karkinen.

Runnerup to Zuehlke in the senior division was Dick Rahol of Iron Mountain, Mich., who scored 211.1 points on leaps of 190 and 166 feet.

John St. Andre, Ishpeming, Mich., won the junior title, soaring 182 and 176 feet and scoring 213.3, second best total of the meet.

Thom Harrington of St. Paul, Minn., topped the veterans division, scoring 188.8 points on leaps of 157 and 128 feet.

The summaries:
Senior Class — Keith Zuehlke, Eau Claire, Wis., 190-170-218.5, 2. Dick Rahol, Iron Mountain, Mich., 190-166-211.1, 3. Wilbert Rasmussen, Ishpeming, Mich., 168-168-208.8, 4. Rudy Maki, Ishpeming, 171-172-203.5, 5. Ted Lehner, Eau Claire, 168-178-201.1.

Junior — 1. John St. Andre, Ishpeming, 182-176-213.3, 2. Willie Erickson, Iron Mountain, 167-167-203.0, 3. Robert Wedin, Iron Mountain, 158-158-184.2, 4. Len Meyers, Iron Mountain, Mich., 162-152-176.8, 5. Dennis Engstrom, St. Paul, 156-128-174.3.

Ryff, always susceptible to cuts around the eyes, won 20 of his first 21 fights and was high ranked in the division before he was knocked out by Larry Boardman. When eye cuts contributed to later technical knockouts by Kenny Lane and Gene Butler, Ryff appeared to be finished.

Manager Charlie Black arranged for a plastic surgeon to do a job on Frankie's face during an 8-month layoff. In two winning fights against Frank Ippolito and Kid Centella, Ryff hasn't been cut. De Cola, who will have a 9-pound weight pull, is his third "comeback" opponent. Within a year, Ryff expects to be fighting for the title.

Burdette Rejects First '58 Salary Offer by Braves

Milwaukee — Two more Milwaukee Braves players — pitcher Phil Paine and infielder Casey Wise — agreed to terms for 1958 during the weekend, but it was learned that world series hero Lew Burdette left for his Sarasota, Fla., home without signing.

Paine, who had an 8-4 record with Wichita in the American association after starting the year with the Braves last season, reached agreement with General Manager John Quinn in telephone conversation. He is at his home in Hummelstown, Pa. Wise, playing winter baseball in Cuba, returned his signed contract.

Burdette, who spent a few days in Milwaukee following the baseball writers' dinner, conferred with General Manager John Quinn Saturday but no agreement was reached. Lew left by plane for Florida Sunday and indications were that the next move in the contract impasse is up to Quinn.

Elgin Baylor Leads Scoring

Will and Robertson Trail Seattle Star By Thin Margin

By The Associated Press
Two kids who might as well be named Joe as far as national recognition is concerned, have really scrambled the individual scoring race in major college basketball.

Because of John Powell, who plays for Miami of Ohio, and Jack Sauer of Duquesne, Elgin Baylor of Seattle is No. 1 with Will Chamberlain, the Kansas All-American, second and Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati third.

Actually, less than a tenth of a point separates the trio now that Powell and Sauer have limited Robertson to 57 points in his last two games. Baylor scored 103 in his last two.

Cincinnati Wins
Baylor has a 32-43-point average. Chamberlain has a 32-42 mark. Robertson is 32-35.

Robertson, who had a top-ranked 32.7 average until Powell held him to 30 points Thursday, scored 27 against Duquesne Saturday in a 72-61 Cincinnati victory. He didn't get rolling until Sauer fouled out with 10:10 left.

Chamberlain, the early pacesetter, could regain the lead with 34 points tonight as Kansas and Kansas State meet in the second match of their 3-game showdown for Big Eight honors.

The Wildcats won No. 14 Saturday with an 83-54 warmup against Colorado for a 4-0 conference record. Kansas is 2-1 in conference play.

San Francisco (15-1), an easy leader in the West Coast Athletic association, defeated Pepperdine, 105-59. Oklahoma State (13-2) whipped St. Louis, 65-34. North Carolina (13-3) tied its record high with an 115-88 job on South Carolina.

Maryland (11-3) defeated Navy 64-51. North Carolina State (12-3), keeping pace with North Carolina atop the Atlantic Coast conference race, avenged an earlier defeat by beating Clemson, 66-54.

Tighe Thinks Stronger Bench Could Bring Tigers Pennant

By JACK TIGHE
Detroit Tiger Manager

Spring Lake, Mich. — I think the Tigers have strengthened some over last season but as for winning a pennant — That's always a tough thing to do. However, there is always a chance.

For one thing, our bench will be better and another thing, I am a year smarter in big league ways and may not do some of the things I did last summer.

Our trade with Kansas City gave us some reserve strength, a couple of experienced pitchers and a catcher who may be a sleeper. Billy Martin, the big man in the deal, is an asset to any club and can help in so many ways. Gus Zernial, if he doesn't play every day, certainly isn't bad as a replacement. And so is Lou Skizas.

Helped Speed
Our biggest weakness last season was second line pitching and infield defense. We believe we've helped our speed over the winter.

Martin will help us in more ways than just with the bat and glove. Reno Bertola needs help and so does Frank Bolling. This fellow Martin, whether anyone likes him or not, certainly is a leader in that infield.

I would like to add an experienced catcher but they are hard to find. We need a good defensive first baseman to back up Ray Boone so we can rest Boone a bit more.

Pitching will be one of our strongest points but another chance for the pennant. Last season our hitters all slacked off at once. They have shown they can hit and if they all perk up at the same time someone might have to chase us. We have six pretty good pitchers, satisfactory hitting and a better defense. We will, however, have to get a lot out of our catchers.

Terror Quint Will Invade Central Court

tapped for offensive charging four times.

Since then, AHS has won six out of seven games and has a current winning streak of four straight.

The Terrors' glossy (5-1) road record will be put to a challenging test this week. Tuesday night, Central can be expected to be "up" in an effort to halt its losing streak. And, Friday, AHS invades West for a duel with the fast-traveling Wildcats.

Scoring Rates Similar
The Terrors have the conference's second best defensive record and third best offensive average after eight games. They have scored at a rate of 61.9 points and have permitted an average of only 54.5.

Central's offensive work (60.3) has been almost on a par with AHS', but on the defense, the Redmen have had trouble. Their 65.6 defensive average is the second poorest in the league.

Central still depends on Duane Prinsen and Paul Testwuide for most of its point punch. In their first meeting with Appleton, they combined for 42 of their team's 54 points.

Prinsen, a nifty southpaw shooter, hit 24 of them. Ullwelling's 19 points represented the Terror high in that December meeting.

Since then, the Terrors have developed considerably better scoring balance. In last Friday's win over Fond du Lac, for example, Tom Verkuilen pitched in 11 points. In the last two games, he has made nine baskets—a higher total than he made in the first six conference games combined (eight).

Lofty Ron Abel came up with his second straight 4-goal night. Using an effortless push shot, he demonstrated he can score from outside as well as from underneath.

Superior State, which thus moved into a second-place tie with La Crosse and Stevens Point. Each has a 4-2 record. Eau Claire evened its record at 3-3 by whipping River Falls, 85-69.

Oshkosh State inflicted a 94-72 defeat upon Whitewater State, loser of all six of its conference starts. The Titans, taking their third victory in six games, are tied with Eau Claire for fifth place.

La Crosse absorbed an even worse beating, a 94-74 loss at 5.

Hollywood — Karl Heinz Gude of Tiscareno, 148, Los Angeles, will help our bench as a pinch hitter.

"Red" Wilson and Tim Thompson, from Kansas City, will do most of the catching. Bill Taylor, from Minneapolis, will help our bench as a pinch hitter.

Five Top Prospects

Phillies Have Another Fine Freshman Crop

BY JOE REICHLER

New York — The Philadelphia Phillies, who had such good fortune with their rookies last year, figure to profit again from another fine freshman crop which will report to Clearwater, Fla., next month.

At least five of the 15 newcomers are considered excellent prospects with a chance to stick. They are pitcher Roman "Ray" Semproch, outfielders Don Landrum and Charles Essegian, first baseman Frank Herrera and third baseman Forrest "Woody" Smith.

Semproch is a 27-year-old right-hander who finished with a 12-4 mark at Miami after a woeful start. International league officials considered him the best pitcher in the circuit during the second half of the season. After failing in his first five starts, during which he compiled a 3-2 record in relief, Semproch suddenly found himself and won 10 of his last 11 decisions.

Landrum is being groomed as Richie Ashburn's successor in center field. Only 21, the speedy outfielder batted .296 in 143 games with Miami and led the league with 17 triples. Essegian, who spent the 1957 season with Schenectady, is a right-handed power hitter who batted .355, slammed 20 home runs and drove in 87 runs although he played in only 80 games.

Herrera, presently playing in the Cuban Winter league, batted .304 with the Marlins, led the International league with 172 hits, clouted 17 home runs and drove in 92 runs.

282 at Miami
Smith, a 30-year-old right-hand hitter, batted .282 at Miami with 15 home runs and 73 runs batted in. He is regarded as a fine defensive man with a strong arm.

Three bonus boys are back from service — catcher Mack Burk and outfielder Fred Van Dusen and Joe Turk.

Also back for another chance are five Miami hurlers, Gene Snider (4-6), Earl Hunsinger (2-for the last two weeks because 2), Angelo Lipetri (1-0), Tom of exams, officially closes the first round of play tonight with the Cornell-at-Grimnell game. at Tulsa where he was 7-3. Also back is John Gray who has had several previous trials with Kansas City and Cleveland.

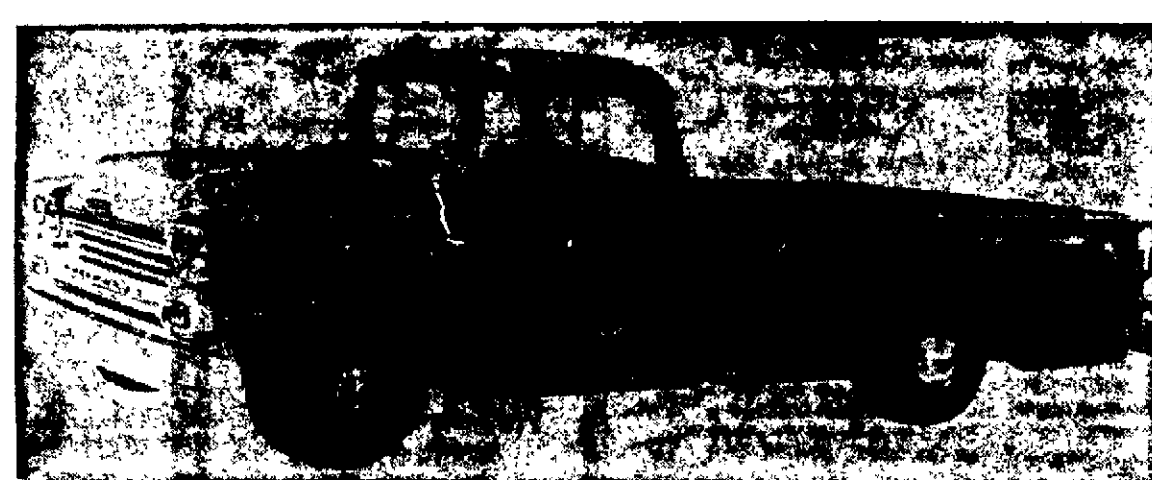

Gray had a 4-3 record with San Diego but turned in an impressive 1.84 era.

Braves Will Fly to Most Road Tilts

Milwaukee — The Milwaukee Braves plan 33 chartered airplane flights during the 1958 season to their games away from home.

Air travel, covering about 21,100 miles, will be used on all out-of-town trips except those between Milwaukee and Chicago, the National league club announced Saturday night.

Venturi Pockets $2,000 for Win At Phoenix

26-Year-Old Pro Tops Burkemo, Hebert by Stroke

Phoenix, Ariz. — Ken Venturi of San Francisco sank a 3-foot putt on the eighteenth green to win the $15,000 Phoenix open.

"I've never been as nervous," he said.

After dropping that putt worth $2,000 in first money, he sailed his white cap into the madly screaming gallery of 7,000 — the largest in the history of the Phoenix tournament.

Venturi, a 26-year-old with little more than a year of pro experience, won this 72-hole tournament the hard way. He started the final round with a 1-stroke lead over Jay Hebert, Sanford, Fla.

He saw that lead melt after the first nine under the heat of a sub-par round by Walter Burkemo, Franklin Hills, Mich., and the pressure of Hebert.

Shoots 65

Burkemo climaxed the finest round of the tournament as he dropped a birdie putt on No. 18 for a day's total of 65 — six under par for the 6,585-yard Phoenix Country club course.

That gave him a total of 275-9 under par. He had started the round six strokes behind the leading Venturi.

Hebert missed a 7-foot putt on the final hole and finished in a tie with Burkemo, one stroke back of Venturi.

Venturi was teeing off on 17. He said he knew what he needed to tie — one birdie — and what he needed to win — two birdies.

He sank a 4-foot putt to go one under on the par-4 seventeenth; and then the short one on the eighteenth.

223-553 Lead Thursday Night Women's Loop

Farrell's bar swept three games from Matchett's to move into first place with 38 wins and 19 losses. Wiggie's foods dropped three games to fall to second place with a 37-20 mark. Three teams are tied for runnerup spot with 35-22 records.

Other high individual scores were rolled by Annie Kersten, 523; Betty Glaff, 192, 202; Elizabeth Obermeyer, 199, 523; Shirley Hurst, 177, 193, 509; Martha DeBruin, 175, 494; Mary Vernon, 481; and Lucille Weiss, 181.

Doctor Pictures Adolescence From Viewpoint of Parents

By Joseph G. Molner, M. D.

Adolescence is that period in a child's life when his parents are very proud of him, and he drives them wild. Physiologically, it is the time at which the youngster is in transition from child to adult, and at any given moment you don't know which. Neither does Dr. Molner.

The boy gets out the razor and the girl starts to take shape, and life would be simpler if you could afford, for each young one, a separate telephone and a separate bathroom.

It is the stage at which girls mope, and boys try to sound important in a cracked voice. Either one, especially the boys, will grow in fantastic spurts, and neither one seems to have the sense to come in out of the rain.

They want to assert their independence, because they have a feeling of coming into their own — and the wise parent will try to find ways of letting them know how to act grown up without letting the kids know that they are being told. It hurts their pride. And anyway, any idea proffered by an adult is either wrong, old-fashioned, or unjust.

Later Bedtime

Bedtime becomes later, but the getting-up hour also tends to become later and more difficult because growing, hard-working kids still need a lot of sleep even if they won't admit it.

It's an age of easy living, of cars, sometimes of clubs, certainly of shows, dining out and dressing modishly. This teenager is likely to expect as his automatic heritage. Meanwhile he can't get a job because he isn't old enough and hasn't much time anyway.

What he can appreciate and what he sees and wants are quite different from what he can acquire under his own power, and this unfair aspect of life helps stir in him a rebellion against authority, whether represented by parents, teachers or even the police. Police would lead easier lives if people could skip from age 12 to age 22.

Time Means Nothing

Adolescence is the age at which getting home at 10 o'clock seems obviously ridiculous, and "not noticing" that it is 10:30 or 11 becomes routine practice. It is very silly of you not to realize that your son is perfectly capable of driving a car twice as fast as you do, and it is just as ridiculous of you to think that he can go out of a door without banging it.

You can't ask him why, because he has come to the age when he will instinctively be in his room with the door shut just when you get up the courage to try to start a man-to-man discussion with him about slamming doors.

This phase is temporary, but at the time it doesn't seem like it. Just as to him, falling in love seems permanent, but it isn't.

End In Sight

Somebody has to wrestle with the problem of income for this burgeoning adult — and he's got to have some income. Only you know that giving too big an allowance can be dangerous. He won't know that for another 20 years or so.

You have a lot, in fact, that you could tell him — only his license said they failed in an attempt to pry open the safe's inner compartment containing

S. S. Kresge Chain To Open 35 Stores

Detroit — S. S. Kresge company will open 35 new stores this year, Franklin P. Williams, president, told a convention of company buyers, district officials and superintendents here.

Among the stores, he said, will be units in Wichita, Dallas and Atlanta.

He said the current expansion program will advance the variety chain "deep into the South, Southwest and Far West by the end of 1959." Sites in New Orleans, Denver, Birmingham, Phoenix and Miami are under consideration for 1959, Williams said.

During 1957, Kresge's opened 32 American and two Canadian stores and completed 28 major remodelings, he said. "In addition, 97 stores were converted to check-out operations, giving Kresge a total of 282 check-out units among its 692 stores," he added.

Food And Arthritis

"Dear Dr. Molner: Is vinegar bad for arthritis? — J.P."

No. We'll all be better off when we stop thinking that any edible food causes arthritis. Poor diet aggravates it, but no food either causes or cures it.

Note to Mrs. E. H.: I definitely cannot go along with the notion that vaginal bleeding is "just from a run-down condition." It must be from some cause, and I'd want to find out what the cause is.

Fire Destroys Barn, Livestock At Apple Creek

Freedom Firemen Work 24 Hours At Wichman Farm

The Freedom volunteer fire department worked nearly 24 hours at a fire at the Ray Wichman, Sr., farm at Apple Creek that destroyed a barn and some livestock Saturday night. It is estimated the loss will be in excess of $12,000.

The barn, filled with 80 to 90 tons of hay and straw was destroyed. A concrete silo was cracked by the intense heat and about 10 head of young cattle, some sheep and chickens were killed.

Fire Chief Edward Vandenberg injured his knee and shoulder when he fell as he arrived at the fire. He was in Kaukauna Community hospital today receiving treatment and X-ray examination.

Discovered by Son
The fire was discovered about 5:30 Saturday afternoon by Ray Wichman, Jr., who owns the house near his father's barn. Wichman, Jr., is bedridden with the mumps and his window faces the barn. He said the fire started in the hay loft.

Firemen were able to save the pump house, about seven feet away from the barn, and a wing of the barn.

Frozen silage in the concrete silo and the intense heat from the fire caused the silo to crack, spoiling the silage.

Month of Bad Luck
The fire culminated a month of bad luck for the Wichman family.

On Jan. 6, Mrs. Ray Wichman, Jr., contracted mumps. The next day the senior Wichman was taken to St. Elizabeth hospital for treatment of injuries he received in an accident on Highway 41 in which the school bus he was driving was involved.

The younger Wichman contracted mumps and is bedridden. His sister, Mrs. Robert Winters, who lives in the house between the senior and junior Wichmans, is also bedridden with mumps and the senior Mrs. Wichman is under doctor's care for a nervous condition.

A nephew of the senior Wichmans was killed in a car-train accident on Thanksgiving day eve, 1945, after visiting the farm.

County Treasurer in Hospital for Observation
Raymond A. Bentz, 1301 S. Alicia drive, Outagamie county treasurer, is under observation at St. Elizabeth hospital after suffering an acute illness at his home.

Truman Denies Offering To Back Eisenhower for President at Potsdam

Claims He Warned Ike Against Seeking Office at 1945 Meeting

New York — Former President Harry S. Truman says he never actually offered to back President Eisenhower for the presidency.

In fact, the former president said in a televised interview yesterday, he had warned Eisenhower against seeking the office.

In his book, "Crusade in Europe," Eisenhower wrote that he was filmed a year ago in the role of Truman at the time of the Potsdam conference in 1945. Truman maintained that he never actually offered to back Eisenhower at Potsdam then president, told him: "General, there is nothing that you may want that I won't help you get. That definitely and specifically includes the presidency in 1948."

Eisenhower said that at the time he treated the remark as "a very splendid joke" and replied: "Mr. President, I don't know who will be your opponent for the presidency, but it will not be I."

Truman defeated Thomas E. Dewey to win reelection in 1948. He did not seek a third term in 1952, when Eisenhower was elected over Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic candidate.

Truman made his comment in a "See It Now" report telecast yesterday, he had warned Eisenhower against seeking the office.

Berggrens Buy Store Site on College Avenue

To Move Into New Quarters in 60 Days, Brothers Announce

Roy H. and Russell E. Berggren will move their Berggren Brothers Sport Shop, 211 N. Appleton street, into new quarters at 203 W. College avenue within 60 days.

Roy H. Berggren said the 2-story W. College building, former site of the Vets' Emporium, was purchased Friday from Andrew C. Jimos, 611 E. Pacific street. Price was not disclosed.

The present sport shop building, owned by Joseph Cannon Building company, will be offered for rent, he said.

Remodeling Set

Extensive remodeling will be done to the new sport shop building, Berggren said. A permit was obtained this morning from Building Inspector Walter Bogan's office.

Remodeling plans call for a new store front, decorating of the inside first floor and expansion of the basement to full size. There are no immediate plans for the three apartments on the second floor.

The Berggren Brothers have been in the sport shop business in Appleton since Nov. 1, 1946, when they opened at 344 W. College. The next year, the shop was moved to 121 N. Appleton. The shop was moved to Cannon's building in 1952.

Greisch Would Be U. S. Senator

District Attorney Says He Might Run In Republican Race

District Atty. George Greisch today said he was interested in the Republican party's endorsement as a senatorial candidate.

Greisch said he is not actively seeking the party's nod, only "sort of extending feelers to see what reactions result."

Greisch also extended "feelers" for party consideration in the 1957 special election to fill the seat left vacant by the death of Sen. Joseph McCarthy.

The district attorney this morning was preparing for a television interview over a Green Bay station. He said he had no fear of any other candidate and would not consider announcement of any prominent state governmental Republicans as a reason for not seeking party endorsement.

Promise 'Myth'

Greisch said he felt Republicans had made a myth of Sen. William Proxmire's victory last fall. He added he felt the party had to get rid of this myth.

Greisch, 37, was elected district attorney in 1956. He ran on the Republican ticket when former Dist. Atty. Fred Froehlich announced he would no longer be a candidate for the post.

He is a graduate of Lawrence college and the University of Wisconsin and a veteran of the Marine corps.

One other person has announced his candidacy for the senate, Ray Dittmore, South Milwaukee, a businessman.

College Professor To Address Forum

Biology Students Take Over Classes to Present Projects

Biology students at Appleton High school took over classes to give reports on their study of foods and nutrition. Speakers visited bakeries and dairy farms to learn of standards maintained in the preparation of these foods for sale.

Others conducted experiments on nutrition with proteins, fats, essential minerals and vitamin C. Animals used for the experiments were albino female rats and guinea pigs. Charts and animals were used to show effects of certain diets as compared with effects of normal diets.

Students who worked on the protein diet were Larry Speel, Barbara Casper, Dick Natrop, Martha Matteson and John Nussbaum. Those concerned with vitamin C were Jan Knick, John Frank, Joan Knuppel, Bob Recker, Tom Lichten and Barbara Notebaart.

Steve Bradford and Jon Keckonen worked on experiments dealing with minerals while Dave Griffith and Ron Jensen did their experiments with fat. Larold Lodholtz and Peter Peckham conducted a student survey on nutritional problems.

Field Trips

The students who visited bakeries were Dave Anderson, Marcia Arnoldussen, Bill Barney, Lynn Belling, Shelly Cohen, Karen Cotter, Tim Davis, Dick Griesbach, Janice Hintz, Joan Hintz, Helen Kumrow, Carl Malmstrom, Larry Moriarty, Sandy Nigl, Sherry Perkins, Diane Winter and Mary Urban.

Shirley Temple Scores

Braves Rename Walsh, Gillespie as Voices

BY JINGO

The voices of Milwaukee Braves will be the same through 1958. Braves President Joseph C. Eaves announced last week. The sportscasters are Earl Gillespie and Blaine Walsh. Same sponsors, with some chance of additions, will foot the bill. You'll soon (March 6 to April 6) be watching a galaxy of stars in the annual Easter

Send pitch on TV. Signed for the show are Jack Benny, Edgar Bergen, Carmen Cavallaro, Rosemary Clooney, Jimmie Rodgers, Joan Collins, John Raitt, Caesar Romero, Margaret Whiting and Lassie.

Shirley Temple is mining pure gold in the fairy tale field. First offering Jan. 12 was "Beauty and the Beast," told forthrightly without musical embellishments. Sunday night came the second, "Rumpelstiltskin," the German folk tale. It, too, was a smash. Jingo doesn't know about the kiddies, but the grownups in his house liked that show. "Sugarfoot"

Echandi Leads Costa Rica Vote

Private Enterprise Advocate Ahead 4-3 In Presidential Race

BY RICHARD G. MASSECK
San Jose, Costa Rica—(AP)—Mario Echandi, conservative advocate of private enterprise, took a 4-3 lead today in partial returns from Costa Rica's presidential election. Returns from 313 of the 1,984 polling places gave Echandi 17,272 votes, Works Minister Francisco Orlich of the government liberation party 13,575 and Jorge Rossi, independent, 3,523.

Voeters also chose a 45-member congress but split the seats among five parties. No faction got the two-thirds majority needed for assured passage of legislation.

Although President Jose Figueres picked Orlich to carry on his program of "liberal democracy," all the candidates said they would continue the Figueres program of school construction, low cost housing and price stabilization. Echandi and Rossi claimed they could do the job cheaper.

If no candidate gets 40 percent of the vote, the two highest men must go into a runoff election Easter Sunday. But with Rossi polling only about 10 percent, it appeared this would not be necessary.

The turnout for the voting yesterday was moderate. Only minor rowdiness between rival factions was reported.

Tuesday night gets himself on the wrong jury. . . Doris Day has signed for MGM's "Tunnel of Love."

Disagree with anything Barry Gray says on WHBY's late night show? You can tell him so by calling collect to Plaza 7-3535 in New York. He takes calls right then and there. . . Connecticut and western Massachusetts Christians and Jews will give Ed Sullivan their national human relations award on Feb. 20. . . Jim Arness wants to quit "Gunsmoke" and carve a career in movies. . . Same with Bill Bendix. "Riley," only he wants to direct the TV series.

Movies with the new story line: "High School Confidential," starring Russ Tamblyn and John Drew Barrymore; "The Teenage Story," with Rosemary Clooney, Jimmie Rodgers, Joan Collins, John Raitt, Caesar Romero, Margaret Whiting and Lassie.

Jack Benny first appeared on radio in the 1920s and for his birthday show Feb. 13 on TV will bring back the band leader whose show it was, George Olsen. . . Richard Egan plays a drunk in "The Voice in the Mirror," his next movie. . . Ron Randall wants out of "OSS," the ABC-TV series. Claims it's outdated by the space age and no one cares about Hitler and Benito these days. . . Jimmie Rodgers has a new record out last week called "The Long Hot Summer," same name of a movie for which it's the theme song. Flip side: "Oh, Oh, I'm Falling in Love Again."

Jody McCrea, who was in Oshkosh for the premiere of "All Mine to Give," is now stationed in New York doing recruiting work for the army. . . Ingrid Bergman and Tyrone Power will bring "Anna Karenina" to Broadway. . . Jerry Lewis wanted Elvis Presley for his Feb. 18 show, but couldn't afford the $100,000 price tag. . . "Gunsmoke" is still the top TV show in the ratings. . . Jane Wyatt, Nina Foch and Lee Bowman star in tonight's "Studio One" story about Washington society.

Aircraft, Missile Stocks Leaders on New York Exchange

New York — Aircraft and missile stocks spurred today on news of the first American earth satellites. Prices were below their best in quiet trading early this afternoon.

Key stocks remained ahead fractions to around a point. An assortment of losers in about the same range peppered the list.

The ticker tape lagged for three minutes in reporting the opening wave of buying. Missile and rocket fuel stocks were traded in a succession of big blocks. The turnover slowed and gains were clipped.

Rubbers were down and oils were mixed. Steels, coppers, rails, chemicals and utilities held to the upside.

Chrysler, prime contractor for the Jupiter-C missile which fired the satellite, was ahead around a point in early trading but shaded the gain later.

Among stocks with rocket-making subsidiaries, General Tire kept a fractional gain but Olin-Mathieson canceled an initial rise and showed a slight loss.

As a renewed attempt was awaited to launch the Vanguard earth satellite, Matin Co., prime contractor for the project, was up a good fraction. Douglas and Boeing were off.

Goodyear was a one-point loser. Texas Co., Goodrich and U. S. Rubber dropped fractions.

U. S. government bonds were firm.

Groundhog Sees More Cold Ahead

If any Fox Cities groundhogs stayed above ground this morning to catch a little more sunshine before burrowing deep for six weeks more slumber, they probably had their tails and noses nipped.

Those up Grantsburg way were sure to freeze because the mercury in that area plunged to 18 below zero early today, just one degree short of the nation's low at Bemji, Minn. In the Fox Cities, the overnight low was 10 degrees above zero, Sunday's high, according to the weather station of the Wisconsin Michigan Power company, was 26 degrees. The temperature at 10 o'clock this morning was 19 above with the wind from the northwest at 10 miles an hour.

In other parts of Wisconsin, Eau Claire had 2 below and La Crosse and Lone Rock 1 below.

Whether Mr. Groundhog saw his shadow Sunday depended on what part of the state he happened to be in. Partly cloudy weather was reported, with some scattered snow.

Temperatures ranged from an official high of 26 at Green Bay to 17 at Grantsburg and La Crosse.
